

NEW MOVE IN THAW CASE

HANOVER VISITED
BY $60,000 FIRE

Passenger and Freight Depots,
Grain Mill and Warehouse and
Freight Cars Destroyed

HANOVER, Mass., Aug. 23.—Fire which broke out early today in the Hanover Four Corners railroad station destroyed the passenger and freight depots, a grain mill and warehouse, a number of freight cars, and badly damaged six other buildings, causing a loss estimated at $60,000.

When discovered the fire had gained great headway in the station and before the arrival of the apparatus had spread to the grain mill and was threatening the entire business center of the town. All the apparatus in the Four Hanovers was called and so menacing did the blaze appear that help was summoned from Rockland. The fire was finally placed under control shortly after daybreak.

The owners of the grain mill were the heaviest losers, over $35,000 worth of grain being stored in the warehouse and freight cars which were a total loss.

COLLINSVILLE FIRE
THREATENED LIVES

House, Barn and Furniture of
Jeremiah Mahoney Burned
Early This Morning

The house, barn and household goods, as well as the entire contents of the barber shop of Jeremiah C. Mahoney of 1932 Lakeview avenue, Collinsville, were completely destroyed by fire early this morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney, who were sleeping on the third story of the building when the blaze was discovered, had a narrow escape with their lives. The cause of the fire is not known, but the losses come to nearly $3000, partly covered by insurance.

The Lowell department was called by telephone, but inasmuch as the fire was beyond the limit of the fire fighters did not respond. Then a call was sent to the Dracut fire department, but before the hose was laid the buildings were nearly burned to the ground. Fortunately the property occupied by Michael Driscoll, situated a few feet away from the burned building, was saved through the efforts of the firemen.

The blaze was discovered between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning by Mrs. Mahoney, who heard the crackling of the flames. Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney were then asleep on the third floor of the building, over the barber shop. Mrs. Mahoney quickly awakened her husband, and the couple made a quick exit after securing a few pieces of wearing apparel. They had no sooner got out of the house than the entire property was ablaze.

Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of St. Mary's church in the village, whose home is opposite that of the Mahoney family, was awakened by the cries of "Fire," and he quickly telephoned to Lowell for help. He then directed his efforts toward the Dracut fire department, which also notified the New England Tel. Co. and the Lowell Electric Light Co. of the danger existing in the vicinity on account of the burned live wires. It was some time before the Dracut fire department arrived on the scene of the conflagration, and inasmuch as there was no water available in the immediate vicinity, nothing could be done in time to save the building.

The nearest hydrant to the Mahoney house is that near the gate of the Reaver Brook mill, about 250 yards away. In order to get a good stream of water, the steam pump at the mill was started, but it took some time to get steam up, for the plant has been closed for a few days. However, after about half an hour a stream of water was directed on the stable, which was a relief, as the fire, however, was also burned to the ground with a lot of hay, a couple of carriages and several tools and farming implements.

While the stable was burning, the firemen directed their efforts on the house occupied by Michael Driscoll, a few feet away and inasmuch as the fire was blowing in the opposite direction, as there was no water available, the property was saved. Fortunately Mr. Mahoney's horse, a valuable animal, was not in the stable at the time of the fire. In the group of three buildings owned by Mr. Mahoney, only a small store house in the rear was saved.

The entire contents of the barber shop, consisting of three large chairs, fixtures and a billiard table, as well

MAY DEPORT THAW
TO VERMONT LINE

Otherwise Canadians Will Hold Him in Jail Till October---He Can Take His
Choice---Counsel in Quandary

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 23.—Out of the tangle of legal red tape involving the case of Harry K. Thaw, detained in the Sherbrooke jail as a fugitive from Mattoon, there developed this afternoon what resembled an ultimatum from the Canadian immigration authorities. It was that Thaw, if he so elected, would be deported to Newport, Vermont, as an undesirable alien after his arraignment in court here on Wednesday and that the Canadian authorities would wash their hands of the affair. If he declines to submit to deportation he may be held here under the present commitment as a fugitive and not have a hearing (should his habeas corpus proceedings fail) until the October term of court.

This is the next move in the case, as Thaw has been warned by relatives in lengthy messages not to insist on personal instructions to counsel and it was understood that his lawyers were to ignore him in their efforts to thwart his deportation to the state of New York. But when Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie left Sherbrooke, Thaw resumed his old tactics and his eight lawyers were in a quandary as to who was his chief counsel.

No Money in Sight
Ostensibly J. N. Greenshields of Montreal had precedence in Thaw's legal forces, but he had nothing in writing to indicate this and with Thaw's growing tendency to take matters into his own hands, as was the case at all of his habeas corpus hearings in New York, his lawyers were puzzled as to the outcome. Thaw money, reported to be flowing toward Sherbrooke, had not arrived in the concrete today and his lawyers were endeavoring to obtain a statement from someone identified with the Thaw interests as to just who was responsible for any expenses incurred.

"We are falling over ourselves," said one of the lawyers. "Eight men cannot handle one man's case without a definite agreement as to who is the boss. Thaw would like to conduct matters himself, but because of telegrams from his relatives we do not feel justified in acceding to his demands. On the other hand there is no representative of the family here whom we can rely upon. So far as we know Thaw will be released on the present commitment when arraigned next Wednesday and then turned over to the immigration authorities. They will deport him to Vermont, we have been led to believe, or to New Hampshire. While we understand that the New York state officials here have tried to "grace the way of extradition" in both these states, we are willing to put up a fight and trust to fair play."

Too Many Lawyers
Thaw when asked this morning as to his counsel, grinned and replied: "I understand we have hired the best in the Dominion. It's up to them."

"What are you going to do about Roger Thompson?" he was asked.

"Roger who?" said Thaw biting his lips.

"Gentleman Roger," said his interviewer. "You know—the chauffeur who drove you from Mattoon."

"I can't talk about that," said Thaw. "See my lawyers."

"Which lawyer?"

MAN OVERCOME BY GAS

Found Unconscious and Sent to Lowell Hospital

Joseph Huotte, a laborer for the Locks and Canal company, rooming at 75 Tremont street, narrowly escaped death from gas poisoning last night or early this morning. Some other roomers in the house noticed a smell of gas about 8.30 a. m. and on investigating the odor was traced to Huotte's room. It was then discovered that a small gas stove which he had evidently lighted had been blown out by the wind and the man who was in bed was in a serious condition. The ambulance was immediately summoned and he was taken to the Lowell hospital. Late this afternoon it was said at the hospital that he had passed the danger point and will recover. He is yet, however, in too dazed a condition to give any connected story of the accident.

Shortly before noon a telephone message was received at the police station to the effect that a man who had been overcome by gas was unconscious in a room at 65 Tremont street. Capt. Brosnan and Lieut. Connor were hurried to the place and when they arrived there, found a man named Joseph Huotte suffering from gas poisoning. The two officers quickly got to work and in a short time had pumped enough gas out of the man's system to revive him. A hurried call for the ambulance was sent in and Huotte was rushed to the Lowell hospital, where it was found he will recover.

If the man is alive he owes his recovery to the police officers who effectively worked over him until he revived, and the mayor as well as Dr. Tighe can come in for a part of the credit, for it was the mayor who suggested the lectures and it was Dr. Tighe who delivered them. This is the first time the officers have had an opportunity to use the first aid advice and they proved fruitful.

Lawyers in Quandary
SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 23.—
Harry K. Thaw's group of Canadian lawyers, nearly all of whom were obtained by telegraph, found themselves today confronting three questions.
First—Who was in charge of his case?
Second—From whom were they to receive their fees? Third—With whom were they to consult pending Thaw's arraignment in the superior court on Wednesday next, on a writ of habeas corpus?

When Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder
Carnegie arrived here Wednesday night, after Thaw's arrest at Mattoon as a fugitive from justice at Mattoon, it was understood that they would take charge of his case, and that from them counsel would receive instructions as to the desires of the

B. & M. BRAKEMEN
STOLE FROM CARS

Two Arrested and One Charged
With Receiving Stolen Property
Which Was Found at His House

The cases of larceny from the Boston & Maine railroad and one of receiving the stolen property, came up in this morning's session of police court but only one of these went on for trial today.

Robert J. Webster pleaded guilty to pilching beer from a freight car which was held over in the Lowell yards. The car was loaded with beer and ale from Portsmouth. No evidence was put in by the prosecution as Webster readily admitted his guilt.

The defendant is a young man who has been employed as a brakeman for the railroad for the past nine years. Up to the present his record has been spotless and Supt. Welch made a plea for him before the court on this account. Judge Enright spoke of the great annoyance these small depredations cause the company and said that he was going to do his best to put a stop to them. The defendant was fined $25, which he promptly paid.

Quite a story is wrapped around the case of Wilfred Lessard, charged with the larceny of various articles from freight trains, and Napoleon Oullette, accused of receiving the property alleged to have been stolen by Lessard.

It is charged by the police that Lessard has been making wholesale thefts from the company for quite an extended period of time. The railroad officials had been losing so much property at Lowell that two of their detectives were sent on here, with Captain Brosnan and Sergt. McClaughrey of the local police, rounded up three men who appeared in court this morning.

Oullette is said to have taken the goods from Lessard and to have operated a veritable "fence." Several articles which it is claimed Lessard took from cars, were found last night at Oullette's home on Meadowcroft street. The cases against Lessard and Oullette will be heard next Friday.

Fred Whiting, a youth of 17, sat in the dock without a quiver upon his face as his weeping mother pleaded with Judge Enright to release her boy. Young Whiting was charged with breaking and entering and larceny and acknowledged his guilt. Whiting's theft was a wholesale affair. He appeared this morning as though he did not much care what disposal was made of his case. The court hearkened to the mother's plea, however, and after giving the young defendant some very sound advice released him upon condition that he pay for the damage he committed. He was placed upon probation for a year.

Catherine Martin could not remain sober and was again in the dock this morning. She was given a four months' sentence to the house of correction. John McDonough was greeted with the same sentence for his intemperance.

John Taylor was allowed a month in which to pay a fine of $15 for drunkenness. Dennis Donovan was fined $5 for a like offence. John O'Donnell did not care to take advantage of the court's leniency in allowing him to pay his fine of $5 weekly and never showed up with his fine. He was brought in on a capias and remitted to jail until his fine is paid.

P. R. WARREN HELD IN $1000

For Grand Jury on the Charge of Larceny of $7000 by Misrepresentation From Jas. McKinley

Judge Pickman held a session this morning in the chamber reserved for civil cases for the purpose of announcing his finding in the case of Peter R. Warren, charged with the larceny of $7000 from James McKinley. The evidence was all put in at the last hearing and the adjournment of the case was simply to allow the court to go over the evidence in the case.

Judge Pickman found probable cause, he said, and ordered that the defendant recognize in the sum of $1000 for his appearance before the next sitting of the Middlesex county grand jury. The defendant was held in the sum of $2500 at the time of his arrest.

The case is one of business transactions where Mr. McKinley claims that the defendant received $7000 from him for stocks which he misquoted as to face value. Mr. McKinley was the principal witness in the case. All local jurisdiction has disappeared with the action of Judge Pickman, holding the defendant for the grand jury.

LARGEST VESSEL AFLOAT SAILS FOR BOSTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The Argentine battleship Rivadavia, the largest war vessel afloat, sailed today for Boston after having spent nearly two weeks at the Brooklyn navy yard. The vessel came here to use the government dry dock because the docking facilities at Quincy, Mass., where she was built, were not large enough. While here she had her hull scraped and painted. She will remain in Boston harbor or vicinity until she leaves for her preliminary trials off Rockland, Maine.

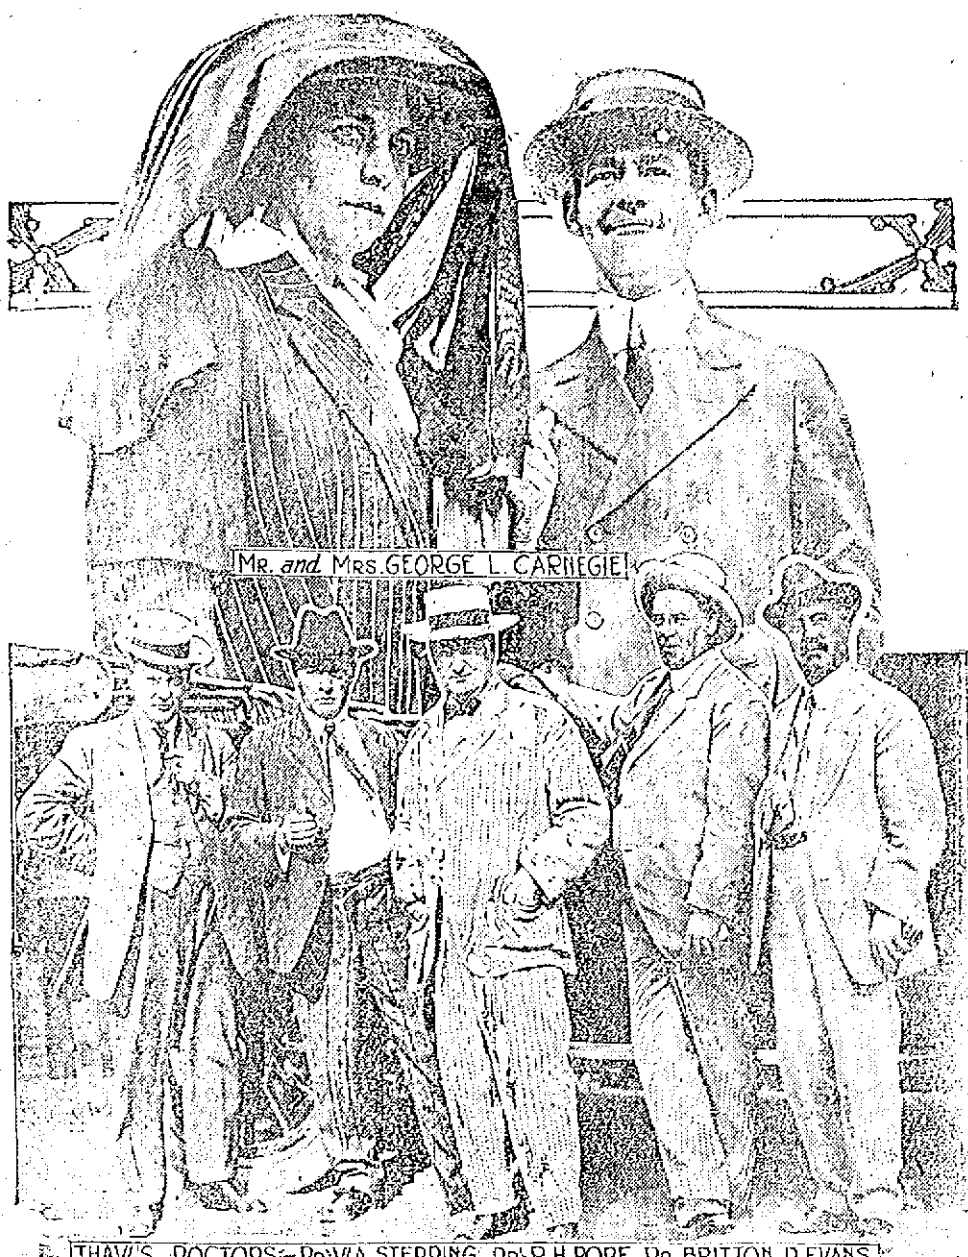

FIGHT OPENED ON WOOL DUTY

Senator Jones Offers an Amendment on Bill for Inheritance Tax—Graduated Rates Offered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Free raw wool was the center of the tariff fight again today in the senate. Democratic leaders hoped to vote before adjournment tonight on the substitute schedules. Another sub was offered today by Senator Catron, republican of New Mexico, carrying the highest rates of any yet presented.

Senator Jones offered an amendment the principal portions of his bill for an inheritance tax which would levy on all transfers of property in the United States except the Philippines. Graduated rates beginning at one per cent for incomes of $5000, run up to 10 per cent, for $15,000,000, and 50 per cent for more. In all states having inheritance tax laws the local tax would be deducted from the tax proposed under the amendment.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carnegie are shown here as they appeared at Sherbrooke, Canada, where they went to aid Harry K. Thaw, Stanford White's slayer, who escaped from the Matteawan (N. Y.) asylum. Mrs. Carnegie is Thaw's sister. Mr. Carnegie, a nephew of Andrew Carnegie, Thaw's relatives intend to fight hard for him, in addition to a big array of lawyers they secured the services of several alienists, including Dr. Britton D. Evans, of "brain storm" fame, head of the state insane asylum at Morris Plains, N. J. These family experts were prepared to testify that Thaw was sane so as to prevent his being deported to the United States.

MEXICAN QUESTION STILL IN DOUBT

President May Read His Message Tuesday—He Expects Nations of World Will Support Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Developments in the Mexican situation were moving swiftly today toward a point which officials expected would determine whether President Wilson would read his message to congress Tuesday. Direct advice from Mexico City that Provisional President Huerta might wish to reconsider his rejection of the American proposals before President Wilson laid the negotiations bare before the world have changed the situation and today the president's plans were contingent upon the moves of the next few hours.

Suggestions have been made to the Washington government since the exchange of notes which indicate a tendency on the part of the Huerta officials to delay the issue. The report published in Mexico City that Emilio Rianza would be sent to Washington by Huerta on a confidential mission is credited here to the extent that it is known that Huerta has under consideration a plan to send an envoy to the United States to talk unofficially with President Wilson just as Mr. Lind did with Huerta. It is believed, however, that Frederick Hamilton, minister of foreign relations would be the man chosen by Huerta for the mission if it is intended.

Whether such a suggestion would meet the approval of the United States is not known as yet, but no evidence is shown to consider the first rejection of the American proposals, the news is regarded as significant.

That the American government, however, will not yield from its position that Huerta must be eliminated as a factor in the situation is likely to be made plain to the Mexican City administration before Gaudin comes, York.

MATHEWS OUTING TODAY

Big Gathering at Pinehurst Park

The members of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society were a gloomy lot this morning when they looked out of their bedroom windows and saw the ground covered with rain that had fallen during the night, for this is the day of their field day at Pinehurst park, Ellipton. But long before the hour that the grounds were opened the sun peered through the heavy clouds and promised them a pleasant day.

Today's affair was the first of its kind held by this organization for several years but it is believed that it will be made an annual event. Shortly after the noon hour people from this city, Ellipton, Woburn and Pinehurst came to arrive at the grounds and long before the afternoon's program started the park was filled with the numbers and friends of the Mathews.

A midway was in evidence and there were amusements for young and old. Several booths and tables containing ices and other refreshments were placed on the grounds and all reported a thriving business.

A sporting program that had been arranged by the members of the committee in charge was carried out, the feature of which was a girls' baseball game between the Belvidere of this city and Golden Sox of Woburn. At the time of going to press the result was not known but it was said that the local girls were putting up a fine game. Valuable prizes were awarded. Dancing was enjoyed at the new pavilion to excellent music furnished by Broderick's orchestra of this city. It is planned to have dancing and other amusements this evening and there is no doubt but what the rates at the park are cleared tonight all will declare the first day one of the most successful ever held by this society.

The officers of the committee in charge are as follows: Chairman, J. Fred Boardman; secretary, Everett Mahoney; treasurer, T. Ross Riley.

All Aboard for the Big Sprint

LAST SEVEN DAYS PREMIUM RED LETTER

Big Struggle in the Final Hours—Read Today's Contest News Carefully and Post Your Friends.

Just one week from next Thursday, at 6 o'clock p. m. the engineers will have blown the whistle for the last station in the Library Contest. Contestants are no doubt preparing to dump off at this last station boxes, packages and bags of labels which are treasured acquisitions of the past few months. We almost shudder at the thought of adding this great outpour, but will set ourselves to wade through to the finish no matter how long it may take. It has taken a long time to gather this golden treasure, and at last it is to be added to the already enormous hoards which will appear in the Sun before many days.

Labels Must Be in by Sept. 3d. The final tabulation of the vote in the presence of our committee will take place a week from next Friday, and this is to inform voters that all reserve labels must be turned in today, before 6 o'clock next Wednesday, Sept. 3d, so that they can be specially verified. You are requested to count these labels carefully and place them in a neat package with the number of votes recorded on a slip of paper, which you must attach to each bundle.

A Few Short Hours Remain. Just a few more working hours remain to Lowell voters in which to secure the three splendid libraries to the contestant they favor. If ever there was absolute need of leadership, organized effort, concerted action, this time is now, for Thursday, Sept. 4th, at 6 p. m. all will be over and preparations will begin for the final count, and it will be a record breaker, our readers may be assured.

Concluding Red Letter Days. The fact that next Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 23th to Sept. 4th inclusive, will be Premium Red Letter days in all the Contest stores is now of supreme importance to shoppers and voters. It is the grand sprinting time, and the pace has been set by today's announcement. This is probably the last time we will independently arrive at the results as you know premium red letter voting is not entered until the final count is made, and most of the remaining days will be premium red letter. Although our task has been an arduous one, the figures which will come from this final burst of speed will go far toward settling the issue that our work will divide into insignificance.

Great Activity Is in Evidence. Every contender has plans cleverly laid through which he hopes to render victory sure and certain. It is not only a battle of persistence, but a battle of wits. Bring your full intelligence into play in your quest for votes, but take warning and play right up to the straight and narrow lines as far as the rules go. You could not do your contestant a greater injustice than to in any way try to take any undue advantage. We would sweep it aside with an ungloved hand and more beautiful it is to see one report after another taken and passed as bona fide and genuine, with nothing coming along to mar the even tenor, and what a credit to a merchant to be among these. We advise all that the surest route to victory is by observing this principle in the letter and the spirit and nothing but this will be tolerated.

Been Posted as to Final Arrangements. We will make announcement in next Saturday's issue of The Sun as to the day the final tabulation will take place and please understand that you are privileged to have one person represent you on this committee and you should look about you and have him ready.

A Last Warning. Several hundred beautiful books swing in the balance and are coming 19 days will seal their destiny.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Mayor Gaynor's determination to run for reelection as an independent promises one of the liveliest municipal campaigns New York has seen in several years. There will be three tickets in the field—democratic, fusion and Gaynor.

The democratic designating committee will meet this afternoon to name as its mayoralty candidate Edward J. McCall, recently a supreme court justice and now public service commissioner. The fusionists, who include republicans, progressives, independence league and some independent democrats, have selected John Barry Mitchell. Mayor Gaynor will run as the candidate of the "Gaynor league" with a full Gaynor ticket behind him. The mayor will make his appeal to anti-Tammany sentiment in all parties, but his chief backers now are anti-Tammany democrats.

Neither the Tammany men nor the fusionists would admit that nomination of Gaynor would weaken their strength. The organization democrats maintained that he would not touch the Tammany vote but would take from the fusion ticket many independent democrats who would not vote for Gaynor as a Tammany candidate but would support him as an independent. MAJOR GAYNOR IN THE FIELD

Will Seek Reelection as an Independent—New York Expects Lively Municipal Campaign

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Mayor Gaynor's determination to run for reelection as an independent promises one of the liveliest municipal campaigns New York has seen in several years. There will be three tickets in the field—democratic, fusion and Gaynor.

The democratic designating committee will meet this afternoon to name as its mayoralty candidate Edward J. McCall, recently a supreme court justice and now public service commissioner. The fusionists, who include republicans, progressives, independence league and some independent democrats, have selected John Barry Mitchell. Mayor Gaynor will run as the candidate of the "Gaynor league" with a full Gaynor ticket behind him. The mayor will make his appeal to anti-Tammany sentiment in all parties, but his chief backers now are anti-Tammany democrats.

Neither the Tammany men nor the fusionists would admit that nomination of Gaynor would weaken their strength. The organization democrats maintained that he would not touch the Tammany vote but would take from the fusion ticket many independent democrats who would not vote for Gaynor as a Tammany candidate but would support him as an independent. Republicans and fusion leaders said they expected Mayor Gaynor would draw

EFFICIENCY IS GOAL

Europeans Devote Time to Perfecting Engine

AMERICAN CARS CENTRE ON BEAUTY AND DURABILITY

Cost of Running Changes Plan of Motor Building—Substitute for Gasoline Sought

"How to make the automobiles of the present not more beautiful, not more powerful, not more durable, but more efficient is the task which every American designer and manufacturer must tackle right speedily," declares Clement Studebaker, Jr.

"We have the beauty, the power, the durability and we have them all at an amazingly low cost in the typical popular-priced American cars. But American standards of efficiency are still below which prevail abroad, especially in the cases of the leading costlier types.

"What sane business man would, in equipping a plant which could be successfully operated by an engine of a certain power, buy for it a power plant of four or five times that size? And what office system is it that puts two or three men at work on a task which one man can perform without being over-worked? Yet how often is it that the very man who would shudder at such a waste, buys a motor car so over-powered as to be absolutely wasteful!

"Mind you, I am not denying the luxurious, high-powered touring car its rightful place. There are persons, undoubtedly, whose wealth and desire for display can be satisfied by nothing else. But, for the average prosperous, conservative American, there must be something which will come closer to his established ideas of true efficiency.

"Europeans have, perhaps on account of the high cost of fuel, developed small motors to a wonderful degree. In fact, there are but a few foreign cars sold, with cylinders of more than three and a half inches bore. The general custom of taxing cars on a basis of cylinder bore has also proven a mighty incentive to this evolution.

"Both these considerations are appearing in the United States. Legislation of this sort made its appearance in many states last year; it will be even more pronounced, beyond doubt, in 1914.

"These two considerations must sound the knell of the large, wasteful motor—the motor which, for the successful performance of its duty relies on its brute force, rather than its refinements of carburetion and its anti-friction devices.

"And I shall miss my guess by a wide margin if, in the years to come, the typical American car will not feature maximum efficiency in an economical motor."

Gasoline "Mixtures"

The constant change in the quality of gasoline in the last six years has developed one of the hardest problems of the automobile manufacturers in having their carburetors so constructed that they will operate with the latest gasoline mixture.

The carburetors of automobiles gave very little trouble in the early years of the automobile business. Then the purest gasoline was put on the market. But soon gasoline manufacturers began to cast about for means of increasing the given amount of gasoline that could be obtained from the crude product until much of the gasoline of today is little better than a very high grade of kerosene.

One thing in connection with modern gasoline that causes much trouble, particularly in the winter time, is the mixing of low-grade gasoline with what is known as casing-head gas. The latter is a highly volatile gas that for many years was permitted to escape from worn-out oil-wells with no attempt to use it and was often set on fire by owners and illuminated the country around for weeks. When it was discovered that under compression this gas went back to a liquid which was a very high grade gasoline it began to be utilized.

When a gasoline which is a mixture of this compressed gas and kerosene is used in an automobile the heavy liquid goes to the bottom. As the inlet to the carburetor is from the bottom it is this heavy liquid which is only slightly volatile that enters and hence the difficulty in starting a machine with such gasoline in cold weather.

But the carburetor man is keeping pace with the gasoline man and in the change that has been made in the last six years continues automobiles will soon be using gasoline that is practically nothing but kerosene.

AUTO SUCCEEDS PONY

Chief Iron Tail Uses the Motor Car Exclusively

INDIAN WHOSE FACE ADORNS NEW CURRENCY SPEAKS OF AUTO

Believes Relative Positions of "White and Red" Would Be Different Had Invention Come Earlier

Lo, the poor Indian. The irresistible march of civilization and progress has marked great changes in his life. It has taken from him the bow and arrow, the tomahawk and the rifle of his belated days and has replaced them with the hoe, and the scythe, badges of the once-hated humdrum existence of the agriculturist. His joyous days of the hunt and the warpath are over. His pony is gone; relegated to the limbo of things that never return by that engine of modern transportation, the automobile. Instead of sitting, dignified and important, in the councils of his tribe, poor Lo now lines up meek and subdued, with his fellows at the door of the agency, the medium by which a benevolent government seeks to make reparations for slaying his forefathers and seizing his lands and his source of indolent, care-free livelihood.

That is, historians and fiction writers have thus painted the Indian's present condition. As a matter of fact, the picture is in far more severe colors than the truth warrants. Today there are hundreds of Indians in this country, educated, well-fed, happy and independent. One of the best examples of the adoption of modern facilities and customs by the American Indians is Chief Iron Tail, once head of a powerful western tribe, whose profile adorns the new five cent piece recently issued by the government. Far from being down-trodden and disconsolate at the loss of his former power and glory as the leader of an important people, Chief Iron Tail has welcomed the innovations which make for the supremacy of the United States among nations of the world, and has availed himself of every opportunity to improve the conditions under which he and the remnant of his tribe live.

Chief Iron Tail, with many of his followers, now lives on the big ranch in Oklahoma. He is still a power, not only among his own people, but among the whites of that section. Sober, industrious and ambitious, the famous chief has risen to affluence and prestige and today is as well supplied with this world's goods as any of his paleface neighbors. Nor does he bemoan the passing of the good old days. His faithful pony and his war bonnet have been relinquished without a sigh.

Chief Iron Tail is a very successful farmer and the proud possessor of an automobile, several of which cars are in use in carrying on the business of the great ranch on which he lives. His greatest delight, between intervals of looking after his various business interests, is to gather a crowd of his Redskin neighbors and take them for long rides through the Oklahoma prairie country. He is an expert driver and is never so happy as when sitting at the wheel of his car, speeding here and there over the territory he formerly traversed at the head of a war or hunting party of his fellows.

"Auto heap better than pony," said Chief Iron Tail in a recent interview. "Go like wind, much faster and much further. No need stop for rest; auto no tire out. Story of United States be much different if Indians had auto in old days. White man maybe not drive Indian out so easy. With auto Redskin could strike and get far away before Paleface could follow. Better like this, though, even if the Indian fast disappearing. We take customs and methods of white man and much better off now."

"They Sailed Away"

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Two thousand persons saw Lawrence J. Moran and Joseph Higgins of East Boston sail out of Boston harbor in the 14-foot sloop Wink, yesterday on the first lap of an attempted trans-Atlantic trip to Liverpool.

A high sea swept the deck of the cockleshell at the start and with a 40-mile wind blowing the navigators had some difficult in avoiding striking the Wood Island sea wall. The Wink was heavily loaded with provisions and water—a two months' supply—and when rough water was encountered in the outer harbor the sloop nearly capsized. She righted herself, however, and last night was well on her way to Provincetown, the first stop.

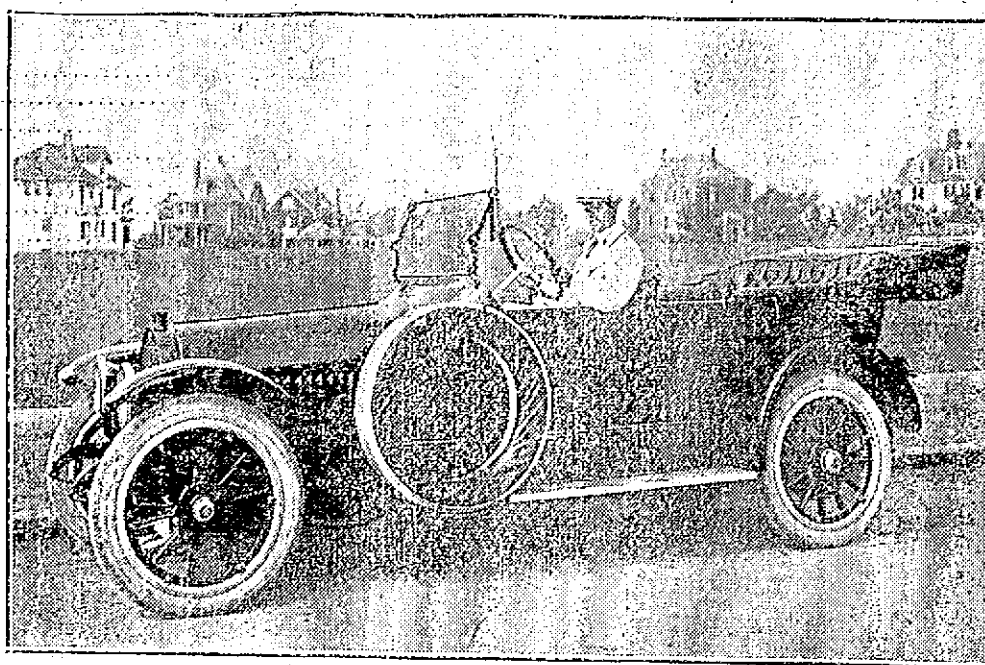

1914 HUDSON "SIX"

New Stream Line Body, Improved Rapid Electric Starter and Other Mechanical Refinements

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

show and demonstrate it to all interested parties.

In exterior appearance, the old saying "clean as a hound's tooth," applies very nicely to this car, as the streamline or Prince Henry idea of body and general exterior appearance is carried out without interruption, both with top up or folded down; the running boards being clear, built in wind shield, no straps or rods to mar the general outline, no dash lamps, no protruding door hinges or handles.

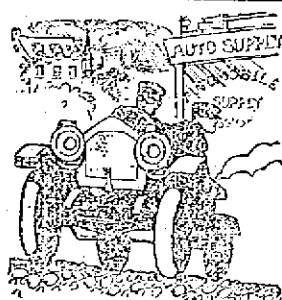

The steering wheel is placed on the left side, while control levers are in the center or at the driver's right, and the front or driver's compartment may be entered from right or left, both doors opening clear and unobstructed. The instrument board presents a very clean appearance, the electric light, ignition and electric starter switches, carburetor control and speedometer setting stem all being very compact and within easy reach of the driver, while the gasoline gauge is in plain view.

The operation of the self starter, which is of the Delco type, is very rapid as well as extremely simple in operation.

The six-cylinder engine is of the same general type as gave such unexcelled satisfaction the past year, such improvements and refinements having been made as the progress of engineering suggested.

The unusually wide, thin-leaved, extra long underslung rear springs, together with the deep upholstery, make a most comfortable family car with a seating capacity for seven people.

The New Ideal of a Distinguished Car

Hudson Six 54, $2250
Seven-Passenger

HERE now is a car which typifies the ideals of a car which typifies the body—this long, sloping hood—this absence of angle at the dash—this low-hung chassis—these crowned fenders—this placing of extra tires so the front doors are left clear—these things belong to the car of today.

The consensus of the world's best opinion is that this type of car marks the coming ideal car. These are radical changes but they are coming as surely as foredooms came—and as suddenly.

All the best foreign cars—English, French and German—will this year exhibit exclusively this new streamline body. And all men know that what they adopt in body design becomes the world-wide vogue.

Our designers have added a hundred minor effects. They have Americanized—have Hudsonized—the type. So the car is distinctive. There will be no other just like it. But it embodies what we regard as the highest conception of the modern trend in bodies.

And we believe that every connoisseur will consider this new HUDSON Six the handsomest car exhibited.

Engineering Pauses

We can claim in this car no great advance as regards fine engineering and no HUDSON

owner expects it. Fine engineering has limits. For the past four years Howard E. Coffin and his able engineers have given their best to the HUDSON. Last year they brought Sixes pretty close to perfection. So close that the HUDSON Six jumped in one year into the foremost rank among Sixes.

These men have worked out in this new model car a vast number of minor engineering improvements. They have added scores of new mechanical features—some of them quite important. But we never expect to build a much better chassis than we built in our last year's Six.

This year's advances lie mainly in beauty, in comfort, in conveniences, in room. We have combined the best in lines, finish and equipment with the best in engineering. We have succeeded in making the HUDSON Six the masterpiece it is.

Now the Ideal Car

We now feel that this HUDSON 54 offers the utmost in every wanted feature. It has the staunchness of steel Pullmans. It has the comfort of Turkish lounging chairs. It has the speed of express trains. It is free from all the troubles which annoy the motorist.

No man knows how to build a car more handsome and impressive. No conveniences are absent, no modern features lacking.

And all these things are here included in a Six 54, with seven-passenger body, at the record price of $2250 (f.o.b. Detroit, Michigan).

The New Features

These are among the new features we bring out in this model. No mention is here made of the countless features in previous HUDSON models which we still retain.

Seven-passenger body.
135-inch wheelbase.
36x43-inch tires.
Extra tires carried—as never before—aboard of the front door. This leaves both front doors clear.

Four forward speeds.
Pure streamline body.
Low-hung body.
No angles at the dash.
Wide tonneau doors.
Gasoline tank in dash.
Electric self-cranking, with the rapid type of the Delco system built especially for this car.

Powerful electric lights with dimming attachment for city driving. They also act as ordinance lights.

Extra seats in tonneau fold into back of front seat, entirely out of the way.

Jeweled magnetic speedometer in dash, with new concealed noiseless gears.

Every operation and control placed within reach of the driver's hand. Gasoline and oil control, lights and starter.

Individual Yale lock and ignition control, prevents theft of car.

Rain-vision windshield built as part of the car. Genuine Pantasote top. Curtains that are carried in the top can be instantly adjusted.

Electric horn—trunk rack—tire holders—license carriers—everything.

Come See It—Come Today

Come to our showrooms and see this new achievement. It is not merely an improved car—it's a real innovation. It will display to you all the best thought of the day in automobile designing.

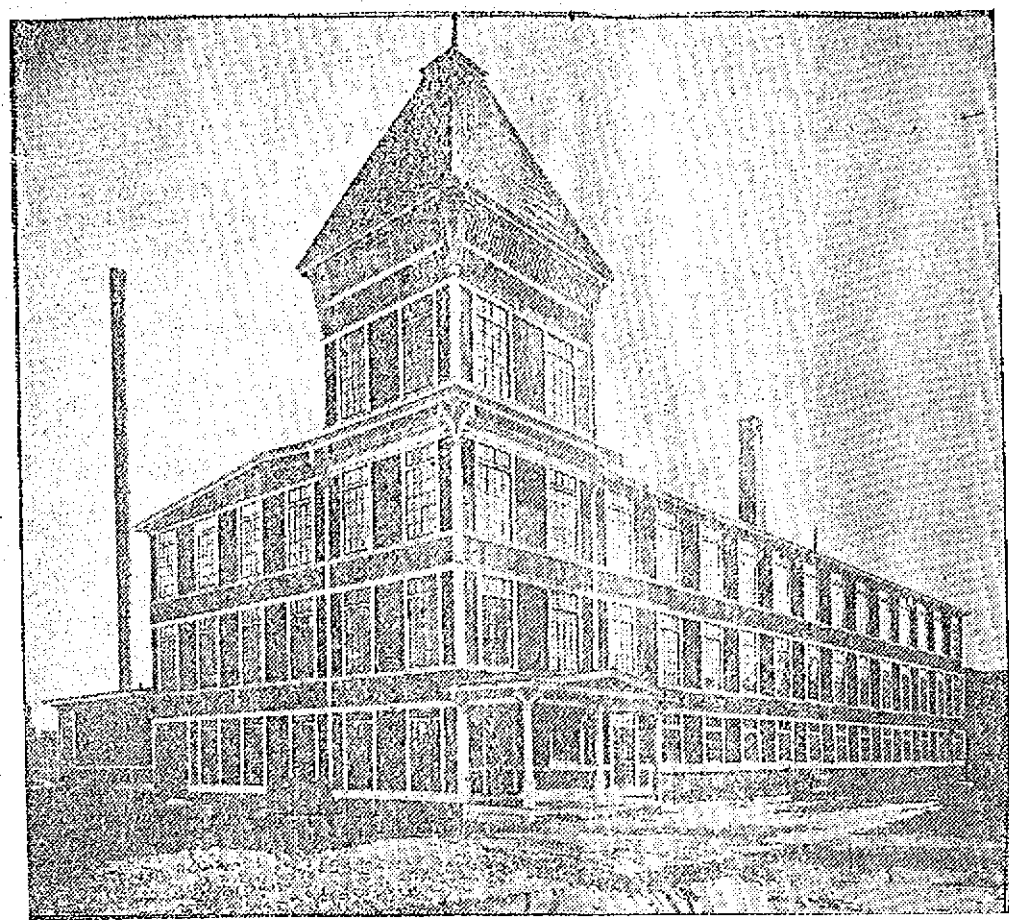

Come see it while it's new. Catalog on request.

LOWELL SHOE SHOPS ARE ALL BUSY

MEARS, FEELEY AND ADAMS SHOP, CORNER LINCOLN AND TANNER STREETS

They Show Signs of Prosperity—The Managers Pleased With the Outlook—Many Need More Room

The local shoe manufacturers are all happy, and there is a reason, for business is reported as being better than it has been in any time since the shoe industry was started in Lowell. All plants are working full time and there is a great output of shoes leaving this city every week for other parts of the country. Some of the manufacturers have put more salesmen on the road and their goods are being sold as far down as Cuba.

The writer took a little trip around a number of shoe shops yesterday afternoon and everywhere he was greeted with the words "Business is fine and could not be better." Some of the shops are adding new machinery in order to keep up with their orders, while others who are well equipped are crying for help.

The weekly shop shipment figures as far as the shoe industry is concerned is the plant of Mears, Feeley and Adams in Lincoln street, where ladies' goods, mostly boots are manufactured. The company is manufacturing a better grade shoe than it did when it first started operations in this city, and more machinery is being installed every day, in order to satisfy the demand of their many customers.

Mr. Feeley, one of the proprietors, in conversation with the writer yesterday, stated that business is by far better than last year at this time. For several weeks, past some of the departments have been running overtime in order to keep up with the many orders. Relative to the help, Mr. Feeley said he believes he has made a record in Lowell, for the employees who were hired on the opening day of the factory are still with the firm, and good experienced workers are always welcome at Stover & Bean Co. Harry Shoe Co.

The plant of the Barry Shoe Co. in Stackpole street is a very busy one, and although the product of this shoe is a low-grade boys' and youths' shoe, the company has orders on file to keep the help busy for several months to come. One of the officials of this company, Mr. Griffin, said yesterday that last month was the best since the company entered business. The company, he said, is installing new machinery in order to keep up with the many orders, and also that all the help necessary are at work. He is elated with Lowell as a shoe centre, and predicts before many years that Lowell may change her name from Spindle City to Shoe City.

manufacturers of shoes are contained in a report of the publicity committee, a sub-committee of the conference committee of the National Shoe Retailers association and the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers association.

The report deals with subjects that for years have helped to demoralize and handicap the shoe business.

The absolute necessity of making legitimate profits, and this in the face of increasing problems and perplexities, is worth remembering as treated in this report. That the manufacturers and retailers must "get together" to solve these problems is the conclusion reached.

All retailers opening new stores are urged to adopt the standard size cartons as decided upon by the conference committee.

Pure shoe legislation comes in for a glib comment with the conclusion that "it is a matter of congratulation that through the united efforts of the national associations of both retailers and manufacturers pure (?) shoe legislation has been defeated in many states."

Cancellation of orders after the shoes are cut formed the subject of resolutions presented to the committee by a special committee of the manufacturers' association. The manufacturers object to the loss it imposes on them and the multiplicity of floor goods created which are now disposed of principally to sample shoe stores. The conference committee passed resolutions condemning such cancellations as "unbusinesslike" and urged the manufacturers to resist the same by all lawful means.

Plain size marking and two French systems intended to do away with a half a hundred French systems were endorsed. These should be adopted at once by shoe dealers, doing away with confusion and often errors in the shoe factories. Plain markings have the preference.

That the retailers should bear the expense of the labels and printed top bands was the verdict.

Other trades will learn with surprise, that it has remained for the conference committee to urge that the shoe dealers of the United States secure "an adequate profit, commensurate with the toil and labor connected with the retail shoe business." Just how dealers should go about this is interesting reading. The Harvard System of Accounting is recommended to those who have little or no knowledge of the cost of doing business. This paragraph is rather a sad commentary on the lack of knowledge many shoe dealers possess on the most important phase of their business.

The fixed price system is condemned as unscientific.

Souvenir program advertising and all like manner of advertising included are contributions to promote retailers' organizations and retailers are urged to cooperate to stamp out this evil.

A publicity plan to acquaint the public on all matters of educational value and "especially relating to the increased cost of shoes" was recommended.

Recommendations for the disposal of samples and floor goods, so that they will not become unfair competition to legitimate dealers, were adopted.

A table for size of samples, so as to make samples suitable, was recommended. Fake sample shoes were condemned as a "menace to the well being of the trade." It was decided to recommend the adoption of laws in all states and by congress to prevent illegitimate stores from advertising shoe samples when not samples, or by quoting fictitious values or by using names intended to deceive customers.

National Franchising Advertising law was recommended. A special committee was named to go deeper into this important subject. The practice of stamping fictitious names and values on shoes was also condemned.

Charging for repairs was also recommended.

It was recommended that lace shoes be pushed as one of the methods to increase profits.

Foreign Trade

Spain has lost foreign trade, by loss of its colonies, but it is still selling $1,000,000 worth of shoes a year to Cuba, according to A. B. Butman, special agent of the United States department of commerce. Domestic trade in Spain is steadily improving. People are wearing more leather shoes, and fewer alpacas, or hemp sole shoes. They are also wearing more well sewed shoes and fewer nailed shoes. American, English and French lasts are used.

The Spanish shoemaker is very skillful in hand work, but a poor machine operator. Goodyear machinery was introduced into Spain in 1906. But the shops are not modern in construction or equipment. The U. S. M. Co. has an office at Barcelona, and supplies most of the machinery. English and German and French machines are also used.

Hours of labor in Spanish factories are from nine to ten a day. Wages are low. In Barcelona, for instance, a Consolidated lasting machine operator makes 50 cents a day, waiters $1.07, venders 71 cents and other operators workers are few in the shoe shops, except in the stitching rooms. In these rooms they average 50 cents a day.

Shoe manufacturers in Spain pay a government tax of $3.50 a year, plus a tax on each sole leather lasting machine that they use. These are taxed at the rate of $15.30 for a foot treadle machine, and $35.60 for a steam-power machine.

Spanish shoemakers are able to produce a good customer-made shoe to retail at $4.15 a pair and machine-made shoes for men and women at from $1.60 to $4.14 a pair. Because of their low price shoes, and the very high protective tariff, the Spanish people import very few shoes.

Norway

The American shoe has until recently found sale in Norway only among the well-to-do classes; at present customers are also being found among the children of the middle classes. Children's American-made shoes in this, and practically no sale, as they cannot compete in price with domestic articles.

Sweden

Sweden, as already stated, is the principal shoe-making country of Scandinavia. Not only are there more factories and greater production, but in quality and finish Swedish-made shoes in general hold the foremost position.

A marked spirit of progress is shown by manufacturers in their endeavor to place Swedish factories on an equality with the plants of other like character, to produce articles of like character, in amount of production the industry being relatively large, but constant development is shown in the quality and appearance of the goods.

Sweden has at present 56 boot and shoe factories, 32 of which are equipped throughout with American machinery. In the remaining 24, machines of other makes are in use, including Johnson welt machines, Moenius putting-over lasting and pegging machines, various machines from Nollische Werke, and Levin lasting machines, in addition to which are well, lasting, pegging, and healing machines from the Atlas Werke Leipzig. The firm last mentioned has an agency in Stockholm, and the United Shoe Machinery company has a depot at Orebro, other firms are represented by visiting agents.

The total boot and shoe production at present is about 17,000 pairs per day, the production per factory averaging about 316 pairs per day. In the largest factory in the country 1,300 pairs are produced per day.

The United States is the world's greatest importer of hides and skins, notwithstanding the fact that it has a larger number of cattle than any other country except India, and it draws upon every part of the world for some of the numerous kinds of hides and skins which it uses. Cattle, horse, buffalo, sheep, goat, pig, kangaroo, and even fish skins, are included in the $120,000,000 worth of material of this character imported, and several other kinds of animals would be included if the tanned skins imported were taken into consideration.

RIGHT HOOK TO JAW A DEATH BLOW

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—John W. ("Bull") Young, Jr., who was sent to a hospital after his defeat by Jesse Willard in the Vernon arena last night, was in such a condition early today that physicians entertained little hope for his recovery. Young was found to be suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage produced by a violent fall to the canvas in the eleventh round when Willard put him down with a right hook to the jaw. When he failed to respond to the treatment of his seconds in the ring, Young was placed in an ambulance and rushed to a hospital in Los Angeles. An operation was prescribed for him at once. After removing a clot on the brain, the doctors said there were slight chances for his recovery.

Young came to Los Angeles less than a year ago as sparring partner for the late Luther McCarthy. Young's home is at Glenn Rock, Wyo. Willard was technically under arrest today. Earl Rogers, the Pacific Athletic club attorney, had promised the authorities to produce him in court in the event of Young's death.

CURRENCY BILL AIDED

Sec. Bryan Gives it His Endorsement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Supporters of the administration currency bill scored an important victory in the house democratic caucus yesterday when they brought to their aid an unqualified endorsement of the measure from Secretary Bryan and defeated proposed "insurgent" amendments that would have prohibited interlocking directorates in national or state banks.

Secretary Bryan, in a letter addressed to Chairman Carter Glass of the currency committee, approved the bill as it stands, declaring President Wilson had recognized fundamental rights of popular control in its publications. He asserted that the plank of the democratic platform against interlocking directorates was aimed chiefly at trusts, and he urged democrats to "stand by the president" and not to load down the currency bill with any amendments that might endanger its early passage.

prove the fact that Lowell shoe factories have never been so busy as they are now. More factories are working full time, and the number of shoes leaving this city every week for other parts of the country is a record. The Barry shoe shop, on Stackpole street, is a very busy one, and although the product of this shoe is a low-grade boys' and youths' shoe, the company has orders on file to keep the help busy for several months to come. One of the officials of this company, Mr. Griffin, said yesterday that last month was the best since the company entered business. The company, he said, is installing new machinery in order to keep up with the many orders, and also that all the help necessary are at work. He is elated with Lowell as a shoe centre, and predicts before many years that Lowell may change her name from Spindle City to Shoe City.

BOND ISSUE PLAN ATTACKED

Bulkeley Declares Syndicate is to Make $1,750,000 Which New Haven Ought to Save

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 23.—"Somebody's going to make a commission of $1,750,000 on these debentures and stock," declared former Governor Morgan G. Bulkeley, of Hartford, at the special meeting of stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. yesterday afternoon, after he had found out what business was before the meeting.

The one-time governor had been delayed in reaching the meeting by the holding up of a train to let a special train by, and when he entered the meeting an informal discussion was under way over the company's affairs. Mr. Bulkeley, after being told that the vote was being taken on ratification of the issue of $2,552,000 of debenture bonds, said: "The company ought to save that commission for the stockholders."

A. Maxey Miller, another stockholder who took part in the discussion, interjected: "I heard that the road lost $12,000,000 in the Oakleigh Thorne investment."

"That will appear at the annual meeting," said Director C. F. Brooker, who was presiding.

Mr. Bulkeley continuing said he was much encouraged by the malcontent among the stockholders. He read a newspaper clipping of July 22, which stated action was to be taken on the bond issue, and said:

"Now we are confronted with all the plans of the disposal of the bond and stock issue even before it is authorized by this meeting, and they are underwritten by private bankers. We have reached a point, it seems to me, where we ought to stop. It is a wild and extravagant proposition. Our present bond holders and stockholders can do without the aid of Wall street. One of your directors is to get the financial benefit of it all, and a syndicate is to do the underwriting and a member of the syndicate is a member of your executive committee. I came ready to vote for this issue, but I want the bondholders and stockholders to get first chance to take the issue. Now we are told that the executive committee has already entered into a contract which has been approved by the directors to take over that issue and before this meeting has authorized it; and I am told of plans of this so-called protective committee of which the gentleman who offered the resolution (Mr. Whitney) is a member, to keep the financial control of the road where it is; that the office of the head is to be removed to a neighboring state and New Haven is to have a nominal office only. Here the directors have made a contract which discloses a waste of one and three-quarters millions of the stockholders' money. As I said before, I know I can't stop prearranged plans of this meeting, but I want to say to you that if you can't do some of the things you suggest at this meeting, be sure and be here and do them at the next."

Director J. DeWitt Cuyler of New York said he could not let the remarks of Mr. Bulkeley go unchallenged.

"If we do not provide for the payment of $40,000,000 in December 11 means a receivership for the road. Now, the stockholders can't take up this issue of bonds and stock. They haven't got the money."

Mr. Bulkeley replied: "The public is jumping at the chance to buy it. I am willing to trust the bondholders and stockholders to furnish all the money legitimately needed. And let me tell you, you will go a long way before you find a man who will develop physically the road as the man you have allowed to retire."

The reference to President Melten brought applause. Mr. Bulkeley said in conclusion:

"The financial policy of this road for 16 years has been rotten (applause), and it will not improve unless there is somebody to say something about it. I don't want to see a couple of million dollars thrown away recklessly. I approve of the issue but disapprove of contracting with a syndicate of bankers which is not legally obliged to take a dollar of it."

Henry Fleishner, 2nd, of New Haven, a lawyer, asked Mr. Brooker why the bonds were not offered to stockholders and the reply was that the matter was closed.

Authorization of the bond issue was given 512,754 for, and 6354 against.

J. H. Hustis, vice-president of the Boston & Albany, was appointed a vice-president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday in connection with meeting of the stockholders. His appointment will be effective Sept. 1. He will be in charge of all departments with headquarters at New Haven. Later, when the by-laws of the company have been changed to permit Howard Elliott to become chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Hustis will become president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

The resignation of Dever H. Warner of Bridgeport, as a director was accepted and W. Murray Crane of Dalton, Mass., was elected to succeed him.

Theodore N. Vail was named a member of the executive committee.

President-elect Elliott, who takes charge September 1, was present. He left last night for Dublin, N. H., to spend the time until September with his family.

FRUIT THIEVES POSE AS MOTH MEN

When Caught Say They Were Sent From City Hall—Close of Playgrounds Arranged

It seems that some of the fruit thieves are impersonating the moth men, they say when asked what they are doing, they say they were sent from city hall.

A man caught robbing a tree in the Highlands said he was sent by Alderman Cummings, whereas the alderman naturally waxed wrath.

Commissioner Cummings said this morning he met a woman from the Highland district yesterday who informed him of the doings of certain parties in her district, and the commissioner wants it clearly understood that from now until Nov. 1 no one from his department has any business in the orchards of the city, and, furthermore, he states that anyone who has any official work on anyone's premises, shall be supplied with a card signed by the commissioner, and Mr. Cummings advises the residents of Lowell in the event of anyone representing himself as coming from city hall, to demand his card, and if this is not done, then let them call the police, for the intruder is an imposter and should be arrested.

No Fakers Allowed

Superintendent Kernan of the park department is in receipt of several applications for concessions on the North common for August 28, the day the firemen's muster will be held. All the demands, however, were turned down, for the superintendent has no legal right to let space on the common; as this has to be done through a special act from the legislature.

Closing of Playgrounds

The closing exercises of the playgrounds will be held on Aug. 27, and for the occasion the various playgrounds will be roped off by employees of the park department. Monday the men will start work in installing tables for the various exhibits, and by Wednesday everything will be in shape. A piano will be supplied for every playground with the exception of the Aiker street, where a hurdy-gurdy will be in operation. Photographs will be taken of the children in the course of the exercises for the yearly catalogue book of the park department.

Park Commissioner Alex. Rountree returned yesterday from a pleasant stay at Hampton beach, and in the afternoon he was taken to the various playgrounds by Supt. Kernan, on a tour of inspection.

Permit Granted

Israel Greenberg was granted a permit for an addition and alterations to the building numbered 110-112-113-120 Lewis street, the same to cost about $2,000.

Bids are being called for 50 cords of cleft wood for the Chelmsford street hospital. The bids will be open Wednesday.

Street Department

The employees of the street department who are doing the macadamizing of Bowers street from Fletcher to Mt. Vernon streets, will start oiling that street on Monday, and they expect to get through with the job in a couple of weeks, when the macadamizing of Walker street from Middlesex to Grove streets will be started. The engineers will stake Walker street next week.

Edgestones are now being placed on Plain street, preparatory to the paving of this street, while a gang of men from the sewer department is busily engaged in constructing a sewer as ordered by the municipal council at one of its recent meetings. This sewer will be 375 feet in length and will cost $835.

On Monday morning the employees of the Bay State Street Railway company will tear the flooring of the Moody street bridge, and will install new rails and heavy Georgia pine ties.

In the course of next week work will be started on the extension of the Aiker street sewer outlet, and this will be the last to be extended in that district.

Mayor O'Donnell received a letter from the mayor of Holyoke who is seeking information relative to the doings of the school board. The letter was addressed to George H. Newhall, mayor of Lowell. Wherever the chief magistrate of Holyoke got that name is not known.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 23.—The bodies of Pascual Orozco, Sr., and other peace commissioners, riddled with bullets, were found in the streets of Huautla, Guerrero, when the Federal troops forced an entrance into that town, according to a special despatch from Mexico City to the Picayune.

According to the cable Zapatista prisoners told the soldiers that Emiliano Zapata slew the commissioners with his own hand while in a frenzy of anger at having been forced to abandon the retreat which had served him in many times of stress during the two years he has been closely pursued. Zapata is said to be hiding in Guerrero.

JOHNSON AND WILLIAMS WINNERS

In Sixth Round of Match for the National Tennis Championship—Strachan of Frisco Put Out

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—Wallace F. Johnson and R. Norris Williams, 2nd, both of Philadelphia, won their matches in the sixth round of the all-comers tournament for the national lawn tennis championship. Johnson put John R. Strachan of San Francisco three sets by one by scores of 2-8, 8-2, 6-2, 6-1.

Williams eliminated W. M. Washburn of New York, in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

The sky cleared about mid-forenoon, but the players waited until the turf had dried out before beginning their matches so that it was nearly noon before Strachan and Johnson came onto the grand court, the Williams-Washburn affair starting a few minutes earlier.

The betting was lively on both matches, with Johnson and Williams favorites over Strachan and Washburn.

The crowd was naturally the smallest of the week, but in spite of conditions more than 1000 persons were seated the grand court when Johnson and Strachan fairly smothered Johnson in the first set with his smashes from all points in the court, especially at the net. The younger player ran in frequently, while his service was almost as severe as that of McLaughlin. In one game, with the score love forty, Strachan scored two service aces. In succession and then ran three more points for the game. The set was 6-2.

PEACE CONGRESS HOLDS CLOSING SESSION

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Aug. 23.—The twentieth universal peace congress held its closing sitting in the Knights hall today. The delegates voted to hold the next peace congress at Vienna in 1914, and it was decided to take to that congress the invitation to hold the congress of 1915 at San Francisco.

The peace congress finished its labors after recording a further series of good intentions and its appreciation of President Wilson's attitude towards peace. The thanks of the congress were cabled to President Wilson.

The question of the fortifications of the Panama canal was resurrected today by Professor Shyden of Washington, and Professor Slooim of Colorado, who secured the adhesion of the congress to a motion asking the United States government not to fortify the canal.

On the motion of Professor Call of Washington, the delegates placed on record their satisfaction at President Wilson's proposal for the submission of disputes which could not be settled diplomatically for investigation by an international committee.

short one. Strachan winning 6-2. The points on the first set were: Strachan... 1 1 4 2 5 4 2 4 2 5 6. Johnson... 1 2 2 4 3 2 4 2 2 6.

In the meantime, Williams had carried off two sets on Washburn, 6-1 and 7-5, and was making good progress toward a third. In the second set Williams became careless and drove frequently into the net and out of bounds. Washburn played a careful, steady game mostly in the back court although running in at times on the service.

Neither match today was of that compelling character which marked the McLaughlin-Clothing contest of yesterday, although Strachan showed the true Californian style of hard-hitting tennis.

LAST DAY OF BIG FAIR

Rain Slowed Track at Rockingham Park

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 23.—The 1913 meeting of the Grand Circuit at Rockingham Park will come to a close this afternoon when three races, the 219 trot, the 214 pace and the 225 trot for three-year-olds are on the cards. Heavy showers during the night and early morning tended to slow up the track to some extent but nevertheless the horses are expected to make fast time.

The meeting has been highly successful, record crowds having attended on all five days. Today is known as "Lawrence Day" and a large attendance from the neighboring mill city is anticipated.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Cape Cod Canal

Boston Herald: It may not be putting it too strongly to say that New England and its shipping interests will profit more from this local canal, which is being pushed to completion at last, after being talked about for almost three centuries, than from the mere difficult engineering work at Panama. It would be difficult indeed to summarize the total loss of life and property during past generations that has followed attempts to round Cape Cod during the winter season. The avoidance of the dangerous shoals and the rough water of the open sea will not be the only saving, for much quicker voyages will be possible for some of our coastwise steamers.

Smoke Up

Banker and Tradesman: Tobacco is exceedingly efficacious in the killing of microbes, according to Messrs. Langhals and Sartory of Paris, who say their experiments have shown that in five minutes tobacco smoke will kill almost all the microbes in the saliva, thus nearly completely sterilizing the mouth. One of the experts' claims carried out by M. M. Langhals and Sartory was to place several cigars in water containing many million cholera microbes to the square inch. The tobacco sterilized and destroyed the microbes in 24 hours.

Sulzer's Course

Boston Post: It would be better for Sulzer if he would acquiesce in the clear meaning of the state constitution, hand over the government to Acting Governor Glynn and calmly await the proceedings in the impeachment court, glad of the opportunity to justify himself if he can.

An Echo

Lewiston Sun: The democratic movement and ultra-radical Congress are about completing a genuine revision of the tariff along the lines long insisted on by democrats. And so careful and reasonable have they made their changes that the old tariff howl about the ruin to follow free trade is become a faint and hollow echo, unattended to.

Juvenile Thieves

Lynn News: With careless parents, weak laws and chocolate clairs judges the lawless juveniles are having the time of their lives, while the man with a child in his arms is being raised a little trait in order to earn something for his family, has to sit down in discouragement and seek the products of his hard work stolen before his eyes and be insulted in addition.

Our Worst Foulout

Burlington Free Press: George Bernard Shaw, the famous British playwright, declares in an interview that "America is our greatest example of political and social error." Right in both counts of the indictment. We have too many hypotheses for foreign titles, and we import from the British realm too many of our political evils. The public's taste and the variety of our pride are a little higher in England than in France.

Not His Element

Springfield Union: Dr. Wiley of New York has a new assertion that the Bible is not true to its label, in that it errs in stating that Adam was created before Eve. Biology, he says, proves that Eve was created before Adam. The doctor will find, however, that while most people are willing to take their food hints from him, they

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife a Well Woman.

Middleton, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible.

"My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middleton, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

All our testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each cannot be entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

SALISBURY BEACH MUDDLE

At Salisbury beach a very bad state of affairs prevails in regard to the ownership of the land and the cottages fronting on the beach. In the past nobody could sell the land and it was leased by the cottage owners.

Since the decision of the supreme court annulling the reservation act, the Salisbury Beach Associates have forced matters with considerable rigor against the cottage owners. They refuse to lease the land and the cottage owners whose leases expire are notified to move the buildings away or else purchase the lots at whatever price the Associates see fit to fix.

A few weeks ago the building in which the postoffice was located was forfeited by the owner and at the hour of noon on a Saturday became the property of the Associates. Some cottage owners declare they will tear down the buildings rather than let them pass into the hands of the landlords who are thus putting themselves in the attitude of very hard taskmasters. Dentist Leith of this city had his cottage taken to pieces and moved to Plum Island. It is said that some cottage owners make threats of violence against the syndicate, while others threaten to burn the cottages they were forced to abandon. It would appear that these threats have reached the ears of the Associates, who have recently placed insurance against fire on 500 cottages, and at the beach fire insurance comes high.

The question as to why the syndicate is unwilling to lease is freely discussed while some say that the syndicate paid $300,000 for the beach and now wants to turn it into money as soon as possible. Had the state held the beach, it is said the syndicate would have cleared $1,000,000 in one haul; but now it expects to make $1,500,000 in a few years by selling the land. Others say that the syndicate is afraid of some flaw being found in its title to the beach and for this reason is anxious to dispose of the land as soon as possible.

If the syndicate would renew the leases to the cottage owners, there would be no objection to an increase in the rental; but only a small proportion of the cottagers can buy the land at the price set upon it. The price asked for the postoffice lot, which is only about 35 feet square, was $7,500, which was simply prohibitive. The price asked for the average lot of 50 feet front is $1500.

It is too bad that there should be any such controversy over the beach as it is one of the best in the country for sea bathing with the exception of part of it near the mouth of the Merrimack river, where owing to the slope down to the waterline the undertow is very dangerous. The syndicate, in our opinion, is making a very serious blunder in refusing to lease lots and in leaving itself open to the charge of taking other men's property, a charge that is not mitigated in the slightest degree by the fact that it happens to be strictly in accordance with law.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE

The determination of President Wilson to present a special message to congress on the Mexican situation, which he may read personally on Monday, is a master stroke. It will lay the foundations for some definite line of future action and it will prepare the world for America's answer to the intimation of the crafty Huerta that the policy of the administration is partisan and not in accord with the feelings of the people of this country as a whole. There is no need for this answer in itself, for no one doubts that the president can depend on the loyalty of all the people in his efforts for a peaceful, dignified, yet firm, evolution of the muddled Mexican situation, but it is just as well that such a base assertion should be killed instantly. The president goes straight to the people through congress, and congress may be expected to take such action as will convince him that he now has the confidence and will have the moral support of a united people in his efforts to induce Mexico to put bluff and shallow arrogance aside and act rationally and decently.

If there has been any lack of uniformity here in public opinion with regard to the Mexican situation, it has been because of the stand of Huerta rather than that of the administration. The mock dignity of the usurper ill befits him, and it carries no conviction to those of us who have fairly good memories. The Huerta who is so desirous for the niceties of technical diplomatic usage is the same Huerta who turned on his lawful and legally elected president when the populace demanded redress and waded to his present position of arrogance through blood and dishonor. His "private sources of information" are not trustworthy. After the president's message to congress he will be able to come to a more definite and a far truer understanding of the real state of popular feeling here—and he will find it decidedly inimical to him and his high handed, would-be coercive and insulting measures.

Cleaner Profits

Lawrence Eagle: The general tendency everywhere is to insist upon better sanitary conditions for fruit of all varieties as well as for vegetables of some kind when displayed for sale. Even Salem where the regulation of the sale of goods of this character has been decidedly lax is experiencing an awakening and protesting against having the greater part of the sidewalks in front of some of the stores used as display rooms for fruits and vegetables. Experience has shown that there is no necessity for this and the sales of the stores where strictly sanitary conditions prevail have been quite as large as those that persisted in exposing goods to the clouds of dust which occasionally arise on the best cared for streets.

PROPRIETOR AND MANAGER RELEASED IN $500 BAIL

They Were Charged With Maintaining a Gambling Nuisance and Selling Liquor—Prisoners Taken to Salem

SALEM, Aug. 23.—Headed by four state officers and Agent Frank J. Chase of the Watch and Ward society, a band of police descended on the Ferncroft club at Middleton yesterday. Proprietor Harry E. Mansfield and Manager Charles Johnson, together with a man called "Gam" Morrill and "Walter" Mitchell, were arrested and a complete roulette outfit was seized. The four men were brought to Salem. The proprietor and manager were charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance; Morrill with maintaining a gambling nuisance and Mitchell on three counts of selling liquor. The three former were released in $500 bail each and Mitchell in $600.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Casino

Tonight, of course, you'll go to the Casino to hear the free concert and to enjoy dancing. Hundreds of people musically inclined will be with you. Merrimack Square Theatre Players

"Get-Rich-Quick-Wallington" from the stories by Geo. Randolph Chester, made into play form by Geo. M. Cohan, will be the attraction in which the Merrimack Square Theatre players are to be seen the coming week. The announcement that this play, which everyone has read or is to be produced with an enlarged cast and a production such as has not been seen locally for some time, will not doubt, to the thousands of Lowell theatre goers, be a gleaming news. This is one of the heaviest royalty plays which has been released this season, and it was only at the New York theatre going, he Manager Carroll was able to secure it at all. Due to the fact that there are now two companies rehearsing it in New York, the play will be in many of the larger cities, among them was to have been Lowell, until the players turned out to be the greatest public philanthropists the town has ever known, will make the most of their opportunities. Miss Grace Turner, as "Fanny Jester," the comedy singer, rather at the hotel at which Wallington first arrives, has a role in which clearly defined, and humor are other member of the company, including Tom Dunn, ex-mayor of Lynn, who plays the mayor of "Wallington," will be seen in roles of which the public will appreciate the value. The play itself is a constant, never-ending delight, even better than most of the comedies and farces of the day. Don't fail to see it when it is produced next week, if you do you're sure to be sorry.

The latest motion pictures between the acts and for an hour before the regular play begins are also shown, and held much interest. For the Sunday concert to be given tomorrow an entire new program is to be given, including a series of the latest motion picture plays and four new acts of vaudeville. Seats for all performances now on sale. Subscription list open.

B. F. Keith's Theatre

"Concocted to please" is the label to be placed on the show at the B. F. Keith theatre next week, when the third season of this popular vaudeville company begins. The management of the bill has been sought after by the management and to do this the vaudeville agencies have been induced to get the necessary "bang" from Coney Island to the North Pole, a musical caprice in three capricious scenes, will rivet the attention of the audience. It is for the wholesome fun, and the 25 minutes it is running will not see one dull second in it. Arthur Laving, a real comedy fellow, aided and abetted by two other funny men, and six pretty dancing and singing girls, will deliver over the pleasant piece of tomfoolery in the proper manner. Laving is very well known for his act, and his songs and funny sayings, will be remembered throughout the entire season. They are hummers from the opening of their act and the end of the act, absolutely modern and wholly clean. The Versatile Trio, three young men who sing and play a number of instruments, are given by them, a big success at the Keith theatre in Boston, will prove winners. Their solo work is said to be wonderfully good, and they will select songs and comedies to get sound comedy out of situations. The dressing of the act will be unusually rich. Jennings and Williams, two black and white comedians, will be remembered throughout the entire season. They are hummers from the opening of their act and the end of the act, absolutely modern and wholly clean. LOWELL MAKES A SEASON RECORD

Twenty-five Runs Scored Off
Three Brockton Pitchers—
Maybohm in Great Form

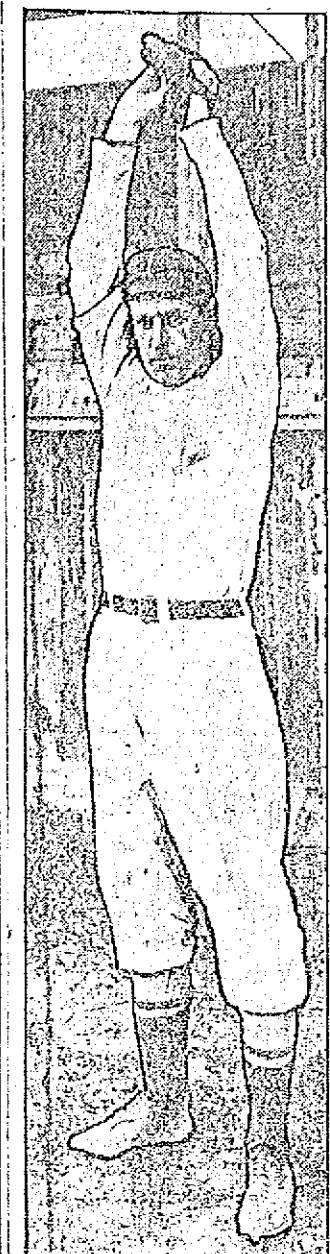

In a record breaking game so far as did Aubrey connect for five pounds of run getting and free hitting went Lowell amazed the 700 people present at yesterday's game at Spaulding Park by piling up 25 runs in seven batting sessions while their opponents, the Shoemakers, could not connect with Maybohm for a single tally. It was the greatest batting contest seen in the league in years.

The score does not mean that Brockton was as far inferior to the locals as appears. Bailey, a recruit, was on the firing line for the visitors when the alleged game started, and allowed four passes and one hit before he was sent to the straws. Swapp, who replaced him with one out, was also easy pickings for the local batters, and he in turn gave way to Brignolia, of center field fame, in the fifth inning.

Maybohm pitched the best game of the season, allowing the visitors but two hits, one a double by Brignolia in the second and the other a single by Tufange in the fifth. The most pleasing part of the blonde twirler's work was the total absence of transportation slips, which heretofore have been so much in evidence when he mounted the rubber.

Three home runs were potted out during the game, but the drive of Thomas over the left field fence in the fifth was the only one which could rightly be termed an earned circuit. That stein's clout to left center was a long three bagger, but the batters were fagged by their continual marathon performances and did not field the ball in the most approved method. So also

Thomas, who took Daly's place behind the bat in the third, gave a great account of himself. He fielded his position perfectly and landed on the ball hard as well as showing a fleet pair of legs on the bases. Magee and Halstein were the principal club wielders. The score:

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—Fans here think that Viox, the sturdy second all around the circuit. He seems to have obtained a strangle hold on the Wagnerian method of batting and base running. He is clouting the sphere nearly as hard as the old master, and on the bases he is certainly like a streak of greased lightning. In addition to his offensive playing, Viox can hold his own on the defensive at the second turn of the diamond.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Fall River here Monday and Tuesday. Although at the foot of the ladder this club can play good ball as we know to our sorrow. We'd like both to those games, Mr. Chokey, if you don't mind.

Here's hoping that Lawrence reverses results this afternoon when they again battle with the Portland club. Pieper will doubtless sent in his best slabster today for the down river fans are home reaved over the present slump that their club has taken.

The Mystery Seconds will cross bats with the Tiger A. C. on Saturday, September 6, for two quarter balls. They would like to hear from the Royal Rs or the Tyler A. C. before Labor day. Send all challenges to Clarence Nichols, 32 Swan street, Dracut.

The Maples would like to play the Laurel A. C. team Saturday, September 6, for two quarter balls. They would like to hear from the Royal Rs or the Tyler A. C. before Labor day. Send all challenges to Clarence Nichols, 32 Swan street, Dracut.

TENNIS PLAY DELAYED

Owing to Heavy Rains
During the Night

BUT COURTS WERE IMPROVED
BY SHOWERS

Large Number of Enthusiasts Present
—The Meeting Has Been Highly Successful

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—The tennis at the Casino in the all-comers' tournament was somewhat delayed today owing to heavy rains which set in during the night. The courts were well drenched, but as they were very dry the showers improved them. Despite the lowering skies, a large number of enthusiasts gathered on the verandas of the Casino and discussed the two matches scheduled for today.

John R. Strachan of San Francisco was to meet Wallace E. Johnson of Philadelphia in the grand court while R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia was down to play W. M. Washburn of New York on one of the side courts.

It was a day of leisure for Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston and Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, who were to meet the winners of the day's contests.

Niles will meet the winner of the Williams-Washburn match and McLoughlin will play the winner of the Strachan-Johnson match on Monday.

press box in a great hurry. Yes, Mr. Harrington, you certainly need one pitcher, at least.

Just the same, this young Bailey had lots of stuff on that ball; in fact, too much. Bailey looks like the real thing to his manager and not a harsh word was passed to him when he took his place on the bench. Ruffange had hard work to hold the range; south-paw's delivery.

McMahon looks as well at the hot corner as he did at short. The one ball that he slipped up on yesterday took a bad bound and bounced out of Bill's glove. The Lowell boy, known as a heady game at any old position in the infield. He is the best third baseman playing New England ball today.

Miller's eye is still black, but otherwise the Lowell second baseman is in tip top shape. He stepped right into the ball yesterday and three singles was the result.

Lee was the only hiring of Manager Gray's who did not hit safely. Clemens was a piker—he only got two hits for a total of three.

Capt. Aubrey showed to good advantage. He is feeling much better and his work shows a marked improvement. Aubrey refused to stoop for that grounder in the fourth; it was a greaser and a hard ball to judge so the shortstop allowed it to pass without making an effort to scoop it up. However, as the score was then 10 to 0 we won't say a word.

White umpired a very satisfactory game yesterday. In fact, it was the best performance he has shown all season. His work on base decisions was especially good.

Portland wasn't far behind us yesterday with their 10 runs. Thirteen runs were scored by Dudley's men in the seventh when 17 batters stepped to the plate. The Portland fans went crazy over the slaughter.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—One hundred stockholders of the Walpole Tire & Rubber company of Walpole, representing 2,500 of the 15,000 shares of preferred stock and 800 of the 15,000 shares of common stock outstanding met here yesterday and voted not to ask the court to appoint a second receiver to act with Receiver Fisher of New York.

SEC. BRYAN SENDS WARNING PAID $2000 BY THE BREWERIES

To Mexico—Americans Must Not be Abused by Anyone Claiming Civil or Military Authority

Says Martin Mulhall Before the House Lobby Committee in Washington Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Curt warning to both the Huerta and constitutionalist commanders at La Boquilla, Chihuahua, Mexico, that the United States will hold them personally responsible for any violence against Americans by "anyone claiming civil or military authority" was sent today by Secretary Bryan through American Consul Letcher at Chihuahua City.

Secretary Bryan instructed Mr. Letcher to despatch his message to La Boquilla by courier and get an answer. His action was in response to a request by Senator Penrose for action to protect S. C. Hulse, Chief Engineer Fuller and other Americans at the plant of the Mexican Northern Power and Irrigation company.

Secretary Bryan's telegram follows: "Information having been received by this government that threats of violence and death have been made against Fuller, Hulse and others at La Boquilla, this government deems it proper to say that if any violence is visited upon any American citizen there or elsewhere by anyone claiming civil or military authority the United States will hold personally responsible the persons responsible therefor."

"Couriers should ascertain conditions of all foreigners at La Boquilla and report what reply the officer in charge makes."

The protection of Americans was taken as indicative of the views of the United States in the protection of Americans wherever their safety is threatened.

AIRMAN OUT TO BEAT THE RECORD

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 23.—Maurice Guillaux, a French aeroplanist, left Biarritz at 4.55 o'clock this morning on a flight in the direction of Northern Europe. The airman is attempting to beat the long-distance course record made last June by Marcel G. Brindejone des Moulinais, who flew from Paris to St. Petersburg.

Aviator Guillaux alighted at Villa Conblay, France, at 10.35 a. m. after a good flight from Biarritz. He re-filled the fuel tanks of his machine and resumed his air journey northward at three minutes past eleven o'clock.

THAW CASE

Continued

Thaw paused. "There are a lot of them," he admitted. "I don't know just who is in charge today."

Hale's Corpus Proceedings

District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, New York, his sheriff, Fred Hornbeck and Franklin Kennedy, representing the New York attorney general's office, said this forenoon that they could only wait the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings on Wednesday.

"We feel sure the immigration authorities will get him then," said the district attorney, "and that they will promptly deport him. As to the point of deportation I can't say and I don't believe anybody can say. We hope to get Thaw back to Matteawan. If they send him to Vermont or if they send him to New Hampshire we are ready to take up the extradition proceedings in either state. As a lawyer I would not be ethical for me to predict what I think the outcome will be."

Thaw's lawyers considered early today that Thaw's threat by Thompson to "equal" as to the Matteawan delivery and it was understood that the Thaw family stood ready to give the chauffeur every support in his fight against the immigration authorities who arrested him on a charge of aiding Thaw—a lunatic—to cross the border.

Thompson clings to the assertion that he is a British subject even while he acknowledges his identity. Thompson says that his father was a policeman in Toronto.

They Should Worry

Thaw's fallers today refused to be worried by rumors of a possible "rescue." Some anxiety was shown, however, by the higher authorities, and Sir James Gouin, premier of the province, has asked Sheriff Aylmer to give his opinion as to whether the ordinary staff at the prison was protection enough against a "raid." The sheriff telegraphed the premier that he had no fears on this score, although he thought an armed guard would be useful to escort the prisoner to court.

The sheriff pointed out that the display of unusual precautions against rescue might only serve to suggest such an attempt to the prisoner's friends, or even to irresponsible persons in search of adventure or eager to get some of the Thaw money which has been prominent in all his trials. The sheriff was emphatic in his assertion that no more guards were needed at the jail.

Sunday Service in Cell

Harry K. Thaw will have Sunday service held in his cell, says George M. McLeish, who is here representing the personal interests of the Thaw family and looking after the comfort of the prisoner.

"I endeavored to get permission from the judge to allow me to take Harry to church," said Mr. McLeish, "but he declined to do so. I will arrange, however, to have a minister visit him in his cell and conduct some sort of service appropriate to the conditions. Mr. Thaw is a church member and has always been. His denomination is Presbyterian and I will accordingly try to have a Presbyterian minister visit him."

"Anything else I can do to make the time pleasant for him will be done."

Jerome in Thaw Tangle

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 23.—William Travers Jerome, formerly district attorney of New York county, was appointed by Attorney General Carmody yesterday a special deputy attorney designated to represent the state in procuring the return of Harry K. Thaw to New York's jurisdiction. He was selected because of his entire familiarity with the Thaw case gained in the two murder trials; and, as special counsel in several attempts of Thaw to establish his sanity by legal procedure.

It is not the present intention to send Mr. Jerome to Canada, where Deputy Attorney General Kennedy is directing the state's case, but to employ his services in procuring the extradition of Thaw from any state to Canada. Attorney General Carmody said last night he had reason to believe that Vermont would be the state to which the fugitive would be returned, and that the date would be next Wednesday. Earlier in the day a similar announcement was made by acting Governor Clegg and was embodied in a telegram to Gov. Fletcher of Vermont requesting his good offices in effecting an extraditions return of Thaw to New York.

Neither Mr. Glynn nor Mr. Carmody would discuss the source of their information, but it is known that the attorney general was in telephone communication with his deputy in Canada. Some surprise was expressed at the apparent certainty of these officials that Thaw would be deported next week.

Jerome Called to Canada

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 23.—William Travers Jerome, the special deputy attorney-general appointed to look after the Thaw extradition case, has been instructed to proceed to Canada at once. He is expected to reach Sherbrooke tomorrow.

HOTEL SUED FOR $100,000

Broker Charges False Arrest to Marie Antoinette Management—Hulu of Wife's Health Also Charged

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—George B. Mott, a broker, filed suit in the supreme court yesterday to recover $100,000 from the Hotel Marlborough. Mott says that he was arrested for failing to pay his bill at the hotel and that after he was taken from his home he was assured that he could call up his wife and tell her what had happened.

He said that after he had been locked up this permission was refused and he was kept in jail until the charge against him was dismissed. Mott says that his wife's health has been ruined through his arrest and he wants damages on her account as well as for the disgrace of being arrested.

FUNERALS

STILES—The funeral of Mrs. A. Cora Stiles took place from her home, 48 Worthen street, yesterday afternoon. The service, which was simple, was conducted by Rev. Wilson Waters. PANAMA RAILROAD ON BOTTOMLESS QUAGMIRE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A hard struggle, it developed today, is being waged by army engineers to keep the Panama railroad on top of an almost bottomless quagmire in what are known as the Brazos and Quebrancha bottoms in the Gatun river valley. Success, the reports indicated, is in sight after months of arduous work. Bedrock lies almost 200 feet below the surface, overlaid by thick soft clay, decomposed vegetable matter and sand. Thousands of tons of soil have been dumped into the place, only to be swallowed up by the quagmire. In consequence the railroad embankments across the valley, aggregating only three miles, have required five million cubic yards of filling.

PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

To be Delayed Pending Huerta's Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Huerta administration in Mexico may reconsider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico and arrange a new basis for negotiation with the United States before next Tuesday. Strong intimations to this effect reached official Washington last night along with the information that the financial condition of the Huerta administration was such that a crisis was imminent. Should the Huerta government decide to enter into a new basis of discussion, withdrawing its contentions as expressed in the Huerta note replying to the proposals communicated by Mr. Lind, President Wilson in all probability will not read its message to both houses of congress of Tuesday and be defended.

Reports from Mr. Lind declare that his relations with the Huerta official are more cordial than before and that they manifest a willingness to find some new ground for a settlement. European diplomatic pressure, it is known here, is quietly at work in Mexico City in an effort to convince Huerta officials that the policy of the United States is being approved abroad.

NOTICE

Beginning Monday, August 25, 1913, THE MOODY STREET BRIDGE, over the Merrimack river will be closed for repairs.

CITY OF LOWELL

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 100 of the Revised Laws, that John H. Douglass, Mary E. Douglass, John H. Douglass & Co., have applied for a transfer of a license to sell intoxicating liquors, of the first class as (Common Victualler) at No. 115 South st., 88 Summer st., and bulkhead in passageway, leading from South st., to 10 1/2 S. South st. and 8-10 South st., in two rooms on first floor; liquor to be kept, but not sold, in cellar.

By order of the License Commission, JOHN J. MULLANEY, Chairman.

CITY OF LOWELL

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 100 of the Revised Laws, that John A. Clark, Joseph M. Clark, J. H. Clark & Co., have applied for a transfer of a license to sell intoxicating liquors, of the fourth class as (Dealer) at No. 14 South st., and bulkhead on South Clark's Day in three rooms on first floor and cellar.

By order of the License Commission, JOHN J. MULLANEY, Chairman.

CITY OF LOWELL

The failure of the Huerta government to obtain funds in Europe through the non-recognition of the United States is pointed to by the diplomats as likely to continue pending a more respectful consideration of the American proposals. It is learned also from authoritative sources that the Huerta government is facing a mutinous army, disaffected because no pay has been forthcoming for weeks.

CORONER'S JURY SAYS DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 23.—James R. Lucas, the wealthy grain broker who was found dead with a bullet wound in the head when a local train arrived at Valley Park, Mo., yesterday, met an "accidental death," according to the verdict of the coroner's jury. Neighbors of Lucas at Valley Park testified that he had spoken of buying a revolver with which to kill dogs. Members of the train crew declared they had seen him examining the new revolver shortly after the train left St. Louis.

BANKERS WILL NOT ENDEAVOR To Prevent Currency Legislation at Present Session of Congress

Criticism of Administration's Bill

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A policy of conciliation and co-operation has been adopted by the resolutions committee of the American Bankers' conference here which was called to crystallize objections to currency legislation pending in congress. There will be no effort by the bankers to prevent currency legislation at the present session of congress, as advocated in resolutions offered yesterday by James B. Forgan of Chicago. Instead, they will present a friendly criticism of the administration's bill with a willingness to compromise on those questions which are in debate.

This was decided by the resolutions committee which took a recess at midnight and today the conference eagerly awaited its recommendations. In assuming this attitude the committee followed the advice of George M. Reynolds of Chicago, who on Thursday conferred with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

Early in his deliberations the committee decided not to present to the conference the resolutions of its chairman, Mr. Forgan, this being done with Mr. Forgan's consent, and then took the Glass-Steagall bill section by section. It was believed this morning that a report would be ready early this afternoon and a warm debate was anticipated.

Attempt to Rob Two Men Bearing Pay of Quarrymen

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Bert P. Gage, 45 years of age, president of the American Bluestone company at Warsaw, is dying and Kirk Stirling, also 45, bookkeeper of the same concern, is seriously wounded as the result of an attempted hold-up by a band of highway robbers near their quarry today. The men were motoring to the quarry, carrying $1000, which they had drawn from the Warsaw bank to pay off their employees.

COLLINSVILLE FIRE THREATENED LIVES

House, Barn and Furniture of
Jeremiah Mahoney Burned
Early This Morning

The house, barn and household goods, as well as the entire contents of the barber shop of Jeremiah C. Mahoney of 1932 Lakeview avenue, Collinsville, were completely destroyed by fire early this morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney, who were sleeping on the third story of the building when the blaze was discovered, had a narrow escape with their lives. The cause of the fire is not known, but the losses come to nearly $3000, partly covered by insurance.

The Lowell department was called by telephone, but as much as the fire was beyond the city limits the fire-fighters did not respond. Then a call was sent to the Dracut fire department, but before the hose was laid the buildings were nearly burned to the ground. Fortunately the property occupied by Michael Driscoll, situated a few feet away from the burned building, was saved through the efforts of the firemen.

The blaze was discovered between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning by Mrs. Mahoney, who heard the crackling of the flames. Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney were then asleep on the third floor of the building, over the barber shop. Mrs. Mahoney quickly awakened her husband, and the couple made a quick exit after securing a few pieces of wearing apparel. They had no sooner got out of the house than the entire property was ablaze.

Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of St. Mary's church in the village of St. Mary, who heard the crackling of the flames, was awakened by the cries of "Fire," and he quickly telephoned to Lowell for help. He then directed his efforts toward the Dracut fire department, and also notified the New England Tel. Co. and the Lowell Electric Light Corp. of the danger existing in the vicinity on account of the burned live wires. It was some time before the Dracut fire department arrived on the scene of the conflagration, and inasmuch as there was no water available in the immediate vicinity, nothing could be done in time to save the building.

The nearest hydrant to the Mahoney house is that of the gate of the Beaver Brook mill, about 250 yards away. In order to get a good stream of water, the steam pump at the mill was started, but it took some time to get steam up, for the plant has been closed for a few days. However, after about half an hour a stream of water was directed on the stable, which was a roaring furnace. This, however, was also burned to the ground with a lot of hay, a couple of carriages and several tools and farming implements.

While the stable was burning, the firemen directed their efforts on the house occupied by Michael Driscoll, a few feet away and inasmuch as the wind was blowing in the opposite direction, this property was saved. Fortunately Mr. Mahoney's horse, a valuable animal, was not in the stable at the time of the fire. In the group of three buildings owned by Mr. Mahoney, only a small store house in the rear was saved.

The entire contents of the barber shop, consisting of three large chairs, fixtures and a billiard table, as well

MAY BE VOLUNTARILY DEPORTED TO VERMONT

Otherwise Canadians Will Hold Him in Jail Till October---He Can Take His
Choice---Counsel in Quandary

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 23.—Out of the tangle of legal red tape involving the case of Harry K. Thaw, detained in the Sherbrooke jail as a fugitive from Matteawan, there developed this afternoon what resembled an ultimatum from the Canadian immigration authorities. It was that Thaw, if he so elected, would be deported to Newport, Vermont, as an undesirable alien after his arraignment in court here on Wednesday and that the Canadian authorities would wash their hands of the affair. If he declines to submit to deportation he may be held here under the present commitment as a fugitive and not have a hearing (should his habeas corpus proceedings fail) until the October term of court.

This put the next move in the case squarely up to the prisoner himself, a phase very pleasing to Thaw. His lawyers conferred with him all of the forenoon, but with what result was not made known. Roger O'Mara, of Pittsburgh, reported to be on his way here to "sit to the lid" for the Thaw family, had not arrived this afternoon and Thaw was still the head of proceedings. The uncertain status of his lawyers has not precipitated an open break, but it is understood that in the absence of any definite advice from the Thaws, except to "do their best," they were making time and listening patiently to Thaw's rambling advice.

After his admission last night that he was the chauffeur that drove Thaw from Matteawan, "Gentleman Roger" Thompson kept his mouth closed today. Thaw, however, promptly issued a statement that he had retained counsel to defend Thompson and that he regarded the chauffeur "a British subject," a "victim of false arrest." Thompson says he is the son of a Toronto policeman, but for years has lived in New York city.

District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, New York, Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy, and others concerned in getting Stanford White's slayer back to Matteawan, are waiting developments of the Vermont deportation matter, meantime exerting pressure on the Vermont authorities in anticipation of extradition proceedings in that state.

Agents Whillans and Reynolds, of the Dominion immigration department, declined this afternoon to admit that Thaw had been told he could get back to Vermont. "That is our present plan in a general way," they said. "It is a matter of our own discretion."

If the habeas corpus proceedings are dropped on Wednesday and the machinery to send Thaw across the border at Newport set in motion, there will doubtless be a hearing at Coaticook, near where Thaw was arrested after he had disclosed his identity to a keen New Hampshire sheriff.

Thaw was very reticent today, particularly over Roger Thompson's declaration that he had "been framed" into the Matteawan plot. His cell is near Thompson's but they have not tried to talk to each other.

Letters and telegrams of encouragement are pouring in on the prisoner. But he is still without personal funds. His credit appears to be pretty good, for imported cigars, candy, fruits and other luxuries are piled on his cot and table.

He had trouble sleeping last night and sent for the jail physician to give him a sleeping potion. By the time the doctor had arrived at the jail Thaw had fallen asleep.

Lawyers in Quandary
SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 23.—Harry K. Thaw's group of Canadian lawyers, nearly all of whom were obtained by telegraph, found themselves today confronting three questions: First—Who was in charge of his case? Second—From whom were they to receive their fees? Third—With whom were they to consult pending Thaw's arraignment in the superior court on Wednesday next, on a writ of habeas corpus?

When Mr. and Mrs. George Lander Carnegie arrived here Wednesday night, after Thaw's arrest at Coaticook as a fugitive from justice at Matteawan, it was understood that they would take charge of his case, and that from them counsel would receive instructions as to the desires of the Thaw family. Thaw at that time had

B. & M. BRAKEMEN STOLE FROM CARS

Two Arrested and One Charged
With Receiving Stolen Property
Which Was Found at His House

The cases of larceny from the Boston & Maine railroad and one of receiving the stolen property, came up in this morning's session of police court but only one of these went on for trial today.

Robert J. Webster pleaded guilty to filching beer from a freight car which was held over in the Lowell yards. The car was loaded with beer and ale from Portsmouth. No evidence was put in by the prosecution as Webster readily admitted his guilt.

The defendant is a young man who has been employed as a brakeman for the railroad for the past nine years. Up to the present his record has been spotless and Supt. Welch made a plea for him before the court on this account. Judge Enright spoke of the great annoyance these small depredations cause the company and said that he was going to do his best to put a stop to them. The defendant was fined $25, which he promptly paid.

Quite a story is wrapped around the case of Wilfred Lessard, charged with the larceny of various articles from freight trains, and Napoleon Oullette, accused of receiving the property alleged to have been stolen by Lessard.

It is charged by the police that Lessard has been making wholesale thefts from the company for quite an extended period of time. The railroad officials had been losing so much property were sent on here who, with Captain Brusnan and Sgt. McLoughrey of the local police, rounded up three men who appeared in court this morning.

Oullette is said to have taken the goods from Lessard and to have operated a veritable "fence." Several articles which it is claimed Lessard took from the freight cars, were found last night at Oullette's home on Meadowcroft street. The case against Lessard and Oullette will be heard next Friday.

Fred Whiting, a youth of 17, sat in the dock without a quiver upon his face as his weeping mother pleaded with Judge Enright to release her boy. Young Whiting was charged with breaking and entering and larceny and acknowledged his guilt. He appeared this morning as though he did not much care what disposal was made of his case. The court hearkened to the mother's plea, however, and after giving the young defendant some very sound advice released him upon condition that he pay for the damage he committed. He was placed upon probation for a year.

Catherine Martin could not remain sober and was again in the dock this morning. She was given a four months' sentence to the house of correction. John McDonough was greeted with the same sentence for his intemperance.

John Taylor was allowed a month in which to pay a fine of $15 for drunkenness. Dennis Donovan was fined $6 for a like offence. John O'Donnell did not care to take advantage of the court's leniency in allowing him to pay his fine of $6 weekly and never showed up with his fine. He was brought in on a capias and remitted to jail until his fine is paid.

HANOVER VISITED BY $60,000 FIRE

Passenger and Freight Depots,
Grain Mill and Warehouse and
Freight Cars Destroyed

HANOVER, Mass., Aug. 23.—Fire which broke out early today in the Hanover Four Corners railroad station destroyed the passenger and freight depots, a grain mill and warehouse, a number of freight cars, and badly damaged six other buildings, causing a loss estimated at $60,000.

When discovered the fire had gained great headway in the station and before the arrival of the apparatus had spread to the grain mill and was threatening the entire business center of the town. All the apparatus in the Four Hanovers was called and so menacing did the blaze appear that help was summoned from Rockland. The fire was finally placed under control shortly after daybreak.

The owners of the grain mill were the heaviest losers, over $35,000 worth of grain being stored in the warehouse and freight cars which were a total loss.

PRES. WOODROW WILSON

Permits Export of Arms to Mexico

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—President Wilson has granted permission for the exportation of two thousand rifles and $50,000 cartridges to the Huerta government. All but one rifle which go to Vera Cruz from New Orleans, will be shipped from El Paso via Juarez. Some of the latter already have gone.

Although it was the first permission granted since June 25 and many applications have been refused, it was declared no change had been made in the government's policy and officials pointed out that the neutrality proclamation permitted the president to authorize shipments at his discretion.

MEXICAN QUESTION STILL IN DOUBT

President May Read His Message Tuesday—He Expects Nations of World Will Support Policies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Development in the Mexican situation were moving swiftly today toward a point which officials expected would determine whether President Wilson would read his message to congress Tuesday. Direct advice from Mexico City that Provisional President Huerta might wish to reconsider his rejection of the American proposals before President Wilson laid the negotiations bare before the world had changed the situation and today the president's plans were contingent upon the moves of the next few hours.

STENOGRAPHER SHOT IN STREET IN WASHINGTON

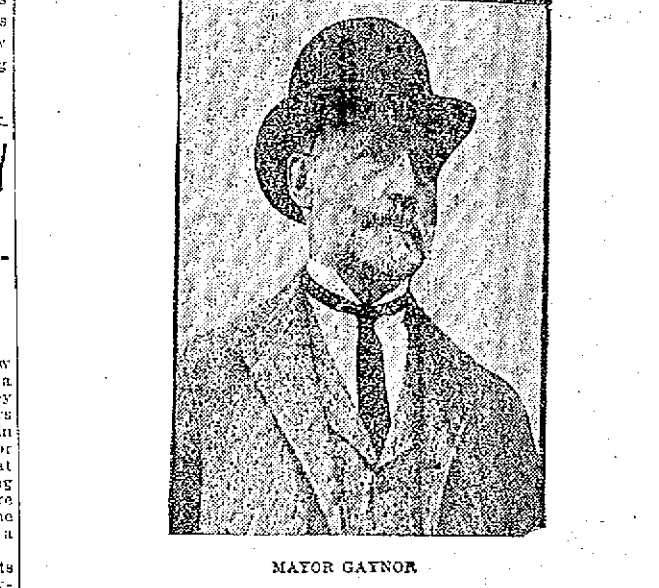

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Francis A. Reilly, personal stenographer to Senator Bristow of Kansas, was shot and probably fatally wounded early this morning on the street. On his way to the hospital Reilly accused his chauffeur, D. H. Schultz, of the shooting. Two bullets took effect in Reilly's body, both being fired at such close range that Reilly's clothing took fire. Schultz escaped and is being sought by the police who have failed to discover the motive for the attack. Schultz was private secretary to O. K. Davis, national secretary of the progressive party, until a few days ago, when he resigned his position.

HEAVY RAINS EXTINGUISH FOREST FIRES

BRUNSWICK, Vt., Aug. 23.—A heavy rain which fell during the early morning extinguished the forest fire on the property of the Connecticut Valley Lumber Company, which late last night had become very threatening. Three hundred men had been engaged in fighting the flames and believed they had it under control yesterday but a strong southwest breeze sprang up and the fire broke away from them and was driven directly into a valuable growth of green timber. Several small lumber sheds were destroyed but all of the horses and equipment was saved.

The annual picnic and field day of the members of the Immanuel Baptist church and Sunday school was held at Silver Lake this afternoon. The members and their friends were conveyed to the grounds in a large special car which left the corner of Moore and Gorham streets about 1.30 o'clock. Arriving at the lake a dip in the water was enjoyed and a list of sports was carried out. A basket lunch was served late in the afternoon and a musical entertainment was given under the pine trees. The affair was in charge of a committee headed by John Pauly.

EFFICIENCY IS GOAL

Europeans Devote Time to Perfecting EngineAMERICAN CARS CENTRE ON BEAUTY AND DURABILITYCost of Running Changes Plan of Motor Building—Substitute for Gasoline Sought

"How to make the automobiles of the present not more beautiful, not more powerful, not more durable, but more efficient is the task which every American designer and manufacturer must tackle right speedily," declares Clement Studebaker, Jr.

"To have the beauty, the power, the durability and we have them all at an amazingly low cost in the typical popular-priced American cars. But American standards of efficiency are still below which prevail abroad, especially in the cases of the leading costly types."

"What sane business man would, in equipping a plant, which could be successfully operated by an engine of a certain power, buy for it a power plant of four or five times that size? And what office system is it that puts two or three men at work on a task which one man can perform without being over-worked? Yet how often is it that the very man who would shudder at such a waste, buys a motor car so over-powered as to be absolutely wasteful."

"Mind you, I am not denying the luxurious, high-powered touring car its rightful place. There are persons, undoubtedly, whose wealth and desire for display can be satisfied by nothing else. But, for the average prosperous, conservative American, there must be something which will come closer to his established ideas of true efficiency."

"Europeans have, perhaps on account of the high cost of fuel, developed small motors to a wonderful degree. In fact, there are but a few foreign cars sold with cylinders of more than three and a half inches bore. The general custom of taxing cars on a basis of cylinder bore has also proven a mighty incentive to this evolution."

"Both these considerations are appearing in the United States. Legislation of this sort made its appearance in many states last year; it will be even more pronounced, beyond doubt, in 1914."

"The two considerations must sound the knell of the large, wasteful motor—the motor which, for the successful performance of its duty relies on its brute force, rather than its refinements of carburetion and its anti-friction devices."

"And I shall miss my guess by a wide margin if, in the years to come, the typical American car will not feature maximum efficiency in an economical motor."

Gasoline "Mixtures"
The constant change in the quality of gasoline in the last six years has developed one of the hardest problems of the automobile manufacturers in having their carburetors so constructed that they will operate with the latest gasoline mixture.

"The carburetors of automobiles gave very little trouble in the early years of the automobile business. When the purest gasoline was put on the market, but soon gasoline manufacturers began to cast about for means of increasing the given amount of gasoline that could be obtained from the crude product until much of the gasoline of today is little better than a very high grade of kerosene."

One thing in connection with modern gasoline that causes much trouble, particularly in the winter time, is the mixing of low-grade gasoline with what is known as casing-head gas. The latter is a highly volatile gas that for many years was permitted to escape from worn-out oil-wells with no attempt to use it and was often set on fire by owners and illuminated the country around for weeks. When it was discovered that under compression this gas went back to a liquid which was a very high grade gasoline it began to be utilized."

When a gasoline which is a mixture of this compressed gas and kerosene is used in an automobile the heavy liquid goes to the bottom. As the inlet to the carburetor is from the bottom it is this heavy liquid which is only slightly volatile that enters and hence the difficulty in starting a machine with such gasoline in cold weather."

But the carburetor man is keeping pace with the gasoline man and if the change that has been made in the last six years continues automobiles will soon be using gasoline that is practically nothing but kerosene."

AUTO SUCCEEDS PONY

Lo, the poor Indian. The irresistible march of civilization and progress has marked great changes in his life. It has taken from him the bow and arrow, the tomahawk and the rifle of his belated days and has replaced them with the hoe, and the scythe, badges of the once-hated humdrum existence of the agriculturist. His joyous days of the hunt and the warfare are over. His pony is gone; relegated to the limbo of things that never return by that engine of modern transportation, the automobile. Instead of sitting, dignified and important, in the councils of his tribe, poor Lo now lines up, meek and subdued, with his fellows at the door of the agency, the medium by which a beneficent government seeks to make reparation for slaying his forefathers and seizing his lands and his source of indolent, care-free livelihood."

That is, historians and fiction writers have thus painted the Indian's present condition. As a matter of fact, the picture is in far more severe colors than the truth warrants. Today there are hundreds of Indians in this country, educated, well-fed, happy and independent. One of the best examples of the adoption of modern facilities and customs by the American Indians is Chief Iron Tail, once head of a powerful western tribe, whose profile adorns the new five cent piece recently issued by the government. Far from being down-trodden and disconsolate at the loss of his former power and glory as the leader of an important people, Chief Iron Tail has welcomed the innovations which make for the supremacy of the United States among nations of the world, and has availed himself of every opportunity to improve the conditions under which he and the remnant of his tribe live.

Chief Iron Tail, with many of his followers, now lives on the big ranch, in Oklahoma. He is still a power, not only among his own people, but among the whites of that section. Sober, industrious and ambitious, the famous chief has risen to affluence and prestige and today is as well supplied with this world's goods as any of his paleface neighbors. Nor does he begrudge the passing of the good old days. His faithful pony and his war bonnet have been relinquished without a sigh.

Chief Iron Tail is a very successful farmer and the proud possessor of an automobile, several of which cars are in use in carrying on the business of the great ranch on which he lives. His greatest delight, between intervals of looking after his various business interests, is to gather a crowd of his Redskin neighbors and take them for long rides through the Oklahoma prairie country. He is an expert driver and is never so happy as when sitting at the wheel of his car, speeding here and there over the territory he formerly traversed at the head of a war or hunting party of his fellows.

"Auto heap better than pony," said Chief Iron Tail in a recent interview. "Go like wind, much faster and much farther. No need stop for rest; auto no go out. Story of United States be much different if Indians had auto in old days. White man maybe not drive Indian out so easy. With auto Redskin could strike and get far away before Paleface could follow. Better like this, though, even if the Indian fast disappearing. We take customs and methods of white man and much better off now."

They Sailed Away
BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Two thousand persons saw Lawrence J. Moren and Joseph Higgins of East Boston sail out of Boston harbor in the 14-foot sloop Wink, yesterday on the first lap of an attempted trans-Atlantic trip to Liverpool.

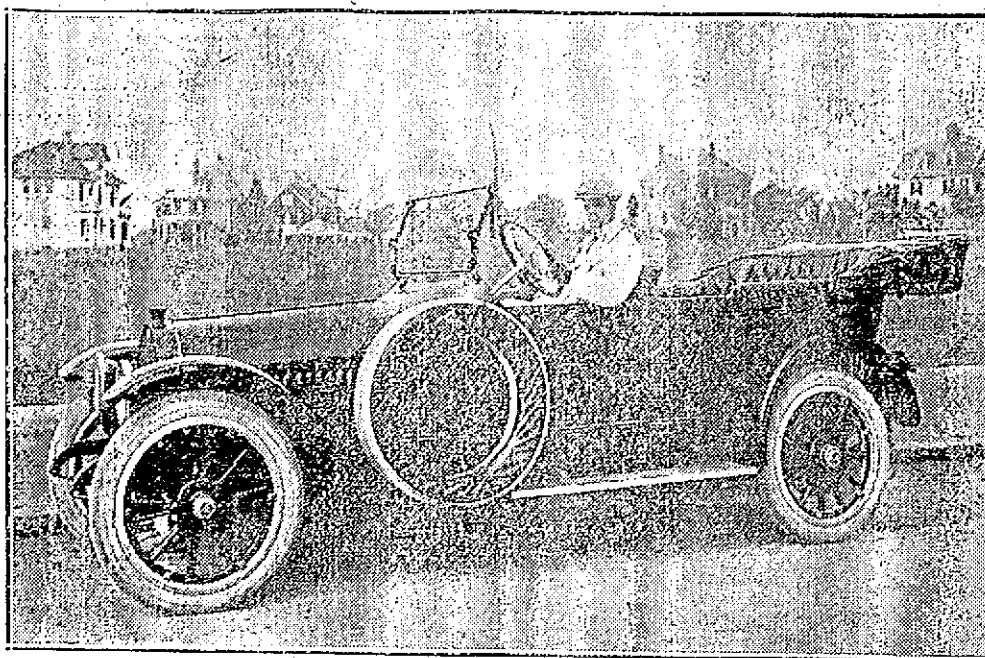

A high sea swept the deck of the cockleshell at the start and with a 40-mile wind blowing the navigators had some difficulty in avoiding striking the Woolwich Island sea wall. The Wink was heavily loaded with provisions and water—a two months' supply—and when rough water was encountered in the outer harbor the sloop nearly capsized. She righted herself, however, and last night was well on her way to Provincetown, the first stop.

GEO. RUSSELL DANA, JR., CAUGHT BY THE CAMERA WHILE OUT "LIMBERING UP" HIS NEW 1914 HUDSON SIX 54

show and demonstrate it to all interested parties.

In exterior appearance, the old saying "clean as a hound's tooth," applies very nicely to this car, as the streamlined or Prince Henry idea of body and general exterior appearance is carried out without interruption, both with top up or folded down; the running-boards being clear, built in wind shield, no straps or rods to mar the general outline, no dash lamps, no protruding door hinges or handles.

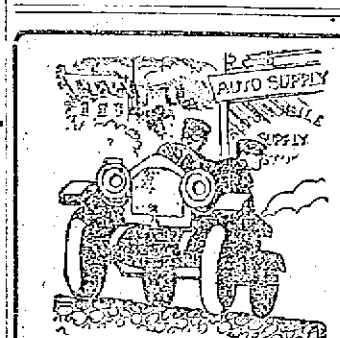

The steering wheel is placed on the left side, while control levers are in the center of or at the driver's right, and the front or driver's compartment may be entered from right or left, both doors opening clear and unobstructed. The instrument board presents a very clean appearance, the electric light, ignition and electric starter switches, carburetor control and speedometer setting stem all being very compact and within easy reach of the driver, while the gasoline gauge is in plain view.

The operation of the self starter, which is of the Delco type, is very rapid as well as extremely simple in operation.

The six-cylinder engine is of the same general type as gave such unexcelled satisfaction the past year, such improvements and refinements having been made as the progress of engineering suggested.

The unusually wide, thin-leaved, extra long underslung rear springs, together with the deep upholstery, make a most comfortable family car with a seating capacity for seven people.

The New Ideal of a Distinguished Car

Hudson Six 54, $2250
Seven-Passenger

HERE now is a car which typifies the ideals of the time. This streamline body—this long, sloping hood—this absence of angle at the dash—this low-hung chassis—these crowned fenders—this placing of extra tires so the front doors are left clear—these things belong to the car of today.

The consensus of the world's best opinion is that this type of car marks the coming ideal car. These are radical changes but they are coming as surely as forebodings came—and as suddenly.

All the best foreign cars—English, French and German—will this year exhibit exclusively this new streamline body. And all men know that what they adopt in body design becomes the world-wide vogue.

Our designers have added a hundred minor effects. They have Americanized—have Hudsonized—the type. So the car is distinctive. There will be no other just like it. But it embodies what we regard as the highest conception of the modern trend in bodies.

And we believe that every connoisseur will consider this new HUDSON Six the handsomest car exhibited.

Engineering Pauses

We can claim in this car no great advance as regards fine engineering and no HUDSON

owner expects it. Fine engineering has limits. For the past four years Howard E. Coffin and his able engineers have given their best to the HUDSON. Last year they brought Sixes pretty close to perfection. So close that the HUDSON Six jumped in one year into the foremost rank among Sixes.

These men have worked out in this new model car a vast number of minor engineering improvements. They have added scores of new mechanical features—some of them quite important. But we never expect to build a much better chassis than we built in our last year's Six.

This year's advances lie mainly in beauty, in comfort, in conveniences, in room. We have combined the best in lines, finish and equipment with the best in engineering. We have succeeded in making the HUDSON Six the masterpiece it is.

Now the Ideal Car

We now feel that this HUDSON 54 offers the utmost in every wanted feature. It has the staunchness of steel Pullmans. It has the comfort of Turkish lounging chairs. It has the speed of express trains. It is free from all the troubles which annoy the inexperienced.

No man knows how to build a car more handsome and impressive. No conveniences are absent, no modern features lacking.

And all these things are here included in a Six 54, with seven-passenger body, at the record price of $2250 (f.o.b. Detroit, Michigan).

The New Features

These are among the new features we bring out in this model. No mention is here made of the countless features in previous HUDSON models which we still retain.

Seven-passenger body.
135-inch wheelbase.
Left side drive. Right hand control.
36x4½-inch tires.
Extra tires carried—as never before—ahead of the front door. This leaves both front doors clear.
Four forward speeds.
Pure streamline body.
Low-hung body.
No angles at the dash.
Wide tonneau doors.
Gasoline tank in dash.
Electric self-cranking, with the rapid type of the Delco system built especially for this car.

Powerful electric lights with dimming attachment for city driving. They also act as ordinance lights.

Extra seats in tonneau fold into back of front seat, entirely out of the way.

Jeweled magnetic speedometer in dash, with new concealed noiseless gears.

Every operation and control placed within reach of the driver's hand. Gasoline and oil control, lights and starter.

Individual Yale lock and ignition control; prevents theft of car.

Rain-vision windshield built as part of the car. Genuine Pantasote top. Curtains that are carried in the top can be instantly adjusted.

Electric horn—trunk rack—tire holders—license carriers—everything.

Come See It—Come Today

Come to our showrooms and see this new achievement. It is not merely an improved car—it's a real innovation. It will display to you all the best thought of the day in automobile designing.

Come see it while it's new. Catalog on request.

BOND ISSUE PLAN ATTACKED

Bulkeley Declares Syndicate is to Make $1,750,000 Which New Haven Ought to Save

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 23.—"Somebody's going to make a commission of $1,750,000 on these debentures and stock," declared former Governor Morgan G. Bulkeley, of Hartford, at the special meeting of stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. yesterday afternoon, after he had found out what business was before the meeting.

The one-time governor had been delayed in reaching the meeting by the holding up of a train to let a special train by, and when he entered the meeting an informal discussion was under way over the company's affairs. Mr. Bulkeley, after being told that the vote was being taken on ratification of the issue of $6,750,000 of debenture bonds, said: "The company ought to save that commission for the stockholders."

A. Maxey Miller, another stockholder who took part in the discussion, interjected: "I heard that the road lost $12,000,000 in the Oakleigh Thorne investment."

"That will appear at the annual meeting," said Director C. F. Brooker, who was presiding.

Mr. Bulkeley continuing said he was much encouraged by the malcontent among the stockholders. He read a newspaper clipping of July 22, which stated action was to be taken on the bond issue, and said:

"Now we are confronted with all the plans of the disposal of the bond and stock issue even before it is authorized by this meeting, and they are underwritten by private bankers. We have reached a point, it seems to me, where we ought to stop. It is a wild and extravagant proposition. Our present without the aid of Wall Street. One of your directors is to get the financial benefit of it all, and a syndicate is to do the underwriting and a member of the syndicate is a member of your executive committee. I came ready to vote for this issue, but I want the bondholders and stockholders to get first chance to take the issue. Now we are told that the executive committee has already entered into a contract which has been approved by the directors to take over that issue and before this meeting has authorized it; and I am told of plans of this so-called protective committee of which the gentleman who offered the resolution (Bill Whitney) is a member, to keep the financial control of the road where it is; that the office of the head is to be removed to a neighboring state and New Haven is to have a nominal office only. If the directors have made a contract which discloses a waste of one and three-quarters of millions of the stockholders' money. As I said before, I know I can't stop rearranged plans of this meeting, but I want to say to you that if you can't do some of the things you suggest at this meeting, be sure and be here and do them at the next."

Director I. DeWitt Cuyler of New York said he could not let the remarks of Mr. Bulkeley go unchallenged.

"If we do not provide for the payment of $49,000,000 in December it means a receivership for the road. Now the stockholders can't take up this issue of bonds and stock. They haven't got the money."

Mr. Bulkeley replied: "The public is jumping at the chance to buy it. I am willing to trust the bondholders and stockholders to furnish all the money legitimately needed. And let me tell you, you will go a long way before you find a man who will develop physically the road as the man you have allowed to retire."

The reference to President Mellen brought applause. Mr. Bulkeley said in conclusion:

"The financial policy of this road for 10 years has been rotten (applause), and it will not improve unless there is somebody to say something about it. I don't want to see a couple of million dollars thrown away recklessly. I approve of the issue but disapprove of contracting with a syndicate of bankers which is not legally obliged to take a dollar of it."

Henry Fleishner, 2nd, of New Haven, a lawyer, asked Mr. Brooker why the bonds were not offered to stockholders and the reply was that the matter was closed.

Authorization of the bond issue was given $12,754 for, and $354 against.

J. E. Hustis, vice-president of the Boston & Albany, was appointed a vice-president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday in connection with meeting of the stockholders. His appointment will be effective Sept. 1. He will be in charge of all departments with headquarters at New Haven. Later, when the laws of the company have been changed to permit Howard Elliott to become chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Hustis will become president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford. The resignation of David H. Warner of Bridgeport, as a director was accepted and W. Murray Crane of Dalton, Mass., was elected to succeed him.

Theodore N. Vall was named a member of the executive committee.

President-elect Elliott, who takes charge September 1, was present. He left last night for Dublin, N. H., to spend the time until September with his family.

FRUIT THIEVES' POSE AS MOTH MEN

When Caught Say They Were Sent From City Hall—Close of Playgrounds Arranged

It seems that some of the fruit thieves are impersonating the moth gangs and when asked what they are doing they say they were sent from city hall.

A man caught robbing a tree in the Highlands said he was sent by Alderman Cummings, whereas the alderman naturally waxed wrath.

Commissioner Cummings said this morning he met a woman from the Highland district yesterday who informed him of the doings of certain parties in her district, and the commissioner wants it clearly understood that from now until Nov. 1 no one from his department has any business in the orchards of the city, and, furthermore, he states that anyone who has any official work on anyone's premises, shall be supplied with a card signed by the commissioner, and Mr. Cummings advises the residents of Lowell in the event of anyone representing himself as coming from city hall, to demand his card, and if it is not done, then let them call the police, for the intruder is an imposter and should be arrested.

No Fakers Allowed

Superintendent Kernan of the park department is in receipt of several applications for concessions on the North common for August 28, the day the firemen's muster will be held. All the demands, however, were turned down, for the superintendent has no legal right to let space on the common. (This has to be done through a special act from the legislature.)

Closing of Playgrounds

The closing exercises of the playgrounds will be held on Aug. 27, and for the occasion the various playgrounds will be roped off by employees of the park department. Monday the men will start work in installing tables for the various exhibits, and by Wednesday everything will be in shape. A piano will be supplied for every playground with the exception of the Alken street, where a hurdygurdy will be in operation. Photographs will be taken of the children in the course of the exercises for the yearly catalogue book of the park department.

Park Commissioner Alex. Rountree returned yesterday from a pleasant stay at Hampton beach, and in the afternoon he was taken to the various playgrounds by Supt. Kernan, on a tour of inspection.

Permit Granted

Israel Greenberg was granted a permit for an addition and alterations to the building numbered 110-112-113-120 Lewis street, the same to cost about $2,000.

Bids are being called for 50 cords of cleft wood for the Chelmsford Street hospital. The bids will be open Wednesday.

Street Department

The employees of the street department who are doing the macadamizing of Bowers street from Fletcher to Vernon streets, will start on Monday, and they expect to get through with the job in a couple of weeks, when the macadamizing of Walker street from Middlesex to Grove streets will be started. The engineers will stake Walker street next week.

Edgestones are now being placed on Plain street, preparatory to the paving of this street, while a gang of men from the sewer department is busily engaged in constructing a sewer as ordered by the municipal council at one of its recent meetings. This sewer will be 375 feet in length and will cost $325.

On Monday morning the employees of the Day State Street Railway company will tear the flooring of the Moody street bridge, and will install new rails and heavy Georgia pine ties.

In the course of next week work will be started on the extension of the Alken street sewer outlet, and this will be the last to be extended in that district.

Mayor O'Donnell received a letter from the mayor of Holyoke who is seeking information relative to the doings of the school board. The letter was addressed to George H. Newhall, mayor of Lowell. Wherever the chief magistrate of Holyoke got that name is not known.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 23.—The bodies of Pascual Orozco, Sr., and other peace commissioners, riddled with bullets, were found in the streets of Huanita, Guerrero, when the Federal troops forced an entrance into that town, according to a special despatch from Mexico City to the Picayune.

According to the cable Zapatista prisoners told the soldiers that Emiliano Zapata slew the commissioners with his own hand while in a frenzy of anger at having been forced to abandon the retreat which had served him in many times of stress during the two years he has been closely pursued. Zapata is said to be hiding in Guerrero.

JOHNSON AND WILLIAMS WINNERS

In Sixth Round of Match for the National Tennis Championship—Strachan of Frisco Put Out

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—Wallace F. Johnson and R. Norris Williams, 2nd, both of Philadelphia, won their matches in the sixth round of the all-comers tournament for the national lawn tennis championship. Johnson put out John R. Strachan of San Francisco three sets by one by scores of 2-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Williams eliminated W. M. Washburn of New York in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

The sky cleared about mid-forenoon, but the players waited until the turf had dried out before beginning their matches so that it was nearly noon before Strachan and Johnson came onto the grand court, the Williams-Washburn affair starting a few minutes earlier.

The betting was lively on both matches, with Johnson and Williams favorites over Strachan and Washburn.

The crowd was naturally the smallest of the week, but in spite of conditions more than 1000 persons were about the grand court when Johnson started the service.

Strachan fairly smothered Johnson in the first set with his smashes from all points in the court, especially at the net. The younger player ran off most as severe as that of McLoughlin. In one game, with the score love forty, Strachan scored two service aces in succession and then ran three more points for the game. The set was a

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Aug. 23.—The twentieth universal peace congress held its closing sitting in the Knights hall today. The delegates voted to hold the next peace congress at Vienna in 1914, and it was decided to take to that congress the invitation to hold the congress of 1915 at San Francisco.

The peace congress finished its labors after recording a further series of good intentions and its appreciation of President Wilson's attitude towards peace. The thanks of the congress were cabled to President Wilson.

The question of the fortifications of the Panama canal was resurrected today by Professor Slayden of Washington, and Professor Slocum of Colorado, who secured the adoption of the congress to a motion asking the United States government not to fortify the canal.

On the motion of Professor Call of Washington, the delegates placed on record their satisfaction at President Wilson's proposal for the submission of disputes which could not be settled diplomatically for investigation by an international committee.

short one, Strachan winning 6-2. The points on the first set were:

Strachan.... 4 4 2 5 4 2 4 20, 6.
Johnson.... 1 2 2 3 2 4 2 20, 6.

In the meantime, Williams had carried off two sets on Washburn, 6-1 and 7-5, and was making good progress toward a third. In the second set Williams became careless and drove frequently into the net, and out of bounds. Washburn played a careful, steady game mostly in the back court although running in at times on the service.

Neither match today was of that compelling character which marked the McLoughlin-Clothing contest of yesterday, although Strachan showed the true Californian style of hard-hitting tennis.

LAST DAY OF BIG FAIR

Rain Slowed Track at Rockingham Park

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 23.—The 1913 meeting of the Grand Circuit at Rockingham Park will come to a close this afternoon when three races, the 219 trot, the 214 pace and the 235 trot for three-year-olds are on the cards. Heavy showers during the night, and early morning tended to slow up the track to some extent but nevertheless the horses are expected to make fast time.

The meeting has been highly successful, record crowds having attended on all five days. Today is known as "Lawrence Day" and a large attendance from the neighboring mill city is anticipated.

LOWELL MAKES A SEASON RECORD

Twenty-five Runs Scored Off
Three Brockton Pitchers—
Maybohm in Great Form

In a record breaking game so far as run getting and free hitting went Lowell amazed the 700 people present, at yesterday's game at Spaulding Park by piling up 25 runs in seven batting sessions while their opponents, the Shoemakers, could not connect with Maybohm for a single tally. It was the greatest swatting contest seen in the league in years.

The score does not mean that Brockton was as far inferior to the locals as appears. Bailey, a recruit, was on the firing line for the visitors when the alleged game started, and allowed four passes and one hit before he was sent to the stables. Swapp, who replaced him with one out, was also easy picking for the local batters, and he in turn gave way to Brignolia, of center field fame, in the fifth inning.

Maybohm pitched the best game of the season, allowing the visitors but two hits, one a double by Brignolia in the second and the other a single by Rufange in the fifth. The most pleasing part of the blonde twirler's work was the total absence of transportation slips, which heretofore have been so much in evidence when he mounted the rubber.

Three home runs were poked out during the game, but the drive of Thomas over the left field fence in the fifth was the only one which could rightly be termed an earned circuit. Halstein's clout to left center was a long three bagger, but the fielders were fagged by their continual marathon performances and did not field the ball in the most approved method. So also did Aubrey connect for five pounds of Bull Durham.

Thomas, who took Daly's place behind the bat in the third, gave a great account of himself. He fielded his position.

PIRATE VIOX GETS WAGNERIAN HABIT AND CLOUTS,
STEALS AND KNOCKS 'EM DOWN LIKE HONUS

VIOX
PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—Fans here think that Viox, the sturdy second sacker of the Pirates, is a second Honus Wagner. From the way Viox has been playing of late there seems to be a general belief to that effect existing all around the circuit. He seems to have obtained a strange hold on the Wagnerian method of batting and base running. He is clouting the sphere nearly as hard as the old master, and on the bases he is certainly like a streak of greased lightning. In addition to his offensive playing, Viox can hold his own on the defensive at the second turn of the diamond.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Fall River here Monday and Tuesday. Although at the foot of the ladder this club can play good ball as we know to our sorrow. We'd like both of those games, Mr. Clohecy, if you don't mind.

Here's hoping that Lawrence reverses results this afternoon when they again battle with the Portland club. Right now doubtless sent in his best slasher today for the down river fans are some peeved over the present slump that their club has taken.

Manager Harrington had just informed the writer that all his team needed was another pitcher to make his club a pennant winner when the boys began to stroll to first base the kindness of Mr. Bailey. Then, when Lowell began to lose balls for Swapp the Brockton manager left the

Owing to Heavy Rains
During the Night

BUT COURTS WERE IMPROVED
BY SHOWERS

Large Number of Enthusiasts Present
—The Meeting Has Been Highly Successful

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—The tennis at the Casino in the all-corners tournament was somewhat delayed today owing to heavy rains which set in during the night. The courts were well drenched, but as they were very dry the showers improved them. Despite the lowering skies, a large number of enthusiasts gathered on the verandas of the Casino and discussed the two matches scheduled for today.

John B. Strachan of San Francisco was to meet Wallace C. Johnson of Philadelphia in the grand court while R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia was down to play W. M. Washburn of New York on one of the side courts.

It was a day of leisure for Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston and Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, who were to meet the winners of the day's contests.

Niles will meet the winner of the Williams-Washburn match and McLoughlin will play the winner of the Strachan-Johnson match on Monday.

press box in a great hurry. Yes, Mr. Harrington, you certainly need one pitcher, at least.

Just the same, this young Bailey had lots of stuff on that ball. In fact, too much. Bailey looks like the real thing to his manager and not a harsh word was passed to him when he took his place on the bench. Rufange had hard work to hold the rangy south-paw's delivery.

McMahon looks as well at the hot corner as he did at short. The one ball that he slipped up on yesterday was a bad bouncer and bounced out of Billy's glove. The Lowell boy knows baseball by intuition and always plays a heady game at any old position in the infield. He is the best third baseman playing New England ball today.

Miller's eye is still black, but otherwise the Lowell second baseman is in tip top shape. He stepped right into the ball yesterday and three singles was the result.

Lee was the only hireling of Manager Gray who did not hit safely. Clemens was wiser—he only got two hits for a total of three.

Capt. Aubrey showed to good advantage. He is feeling much better and his work shows a marked improvement. Aubrey refused to stoop for that grounder in the fourth. He was a creeper and a hard ball to judge so the shortstop allowed it to pass without making an effort to scoop it up. However, as the score was then 10 to 0 we won't say a word.

While unpriced a very satisfactory game yesterday. In fact, it was the best performance he has shown in this season. His work on base decisions was especially good.

Portland wasn't far behind us yesterday with their 13 runs. Thirteen runs were scored by Donny's men in the seventh when 17 batters stepped to the plate. The Portland fans went crazy over the slaughter.

Want Second Receivers

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—One hundred stockholders of the Walpole Tire & Rubber Company of Walpole, representing 12,575 of the 15,000 shares of common stock outstanding met here yesterday and voted not to ask the court to appoint a second receiver to act with Receiver Fisher of New York.

Says Martin Mulhall Before the House Lobby Committee in Washington Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Martin M. Mulhall testified before the House lobby committee today that Representative McDermott of Illinois told him he received $2000 from brewery interests during the campaign of 1912 "for something that was to be done here."

DEVELOPMENTS IN SHIPPING WAR

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Developments are coming fast in the shipping war recently declared by the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd Steamship companies. The Russian government has granted a concession for a new steamship line to ply between Liban, Russia and Bremen. It is reported that the new service will be subsidiary to the North German Lloyd line and will divert Russian emigrants toward Bremen. With the present railroad route a large proportion of these emigrants go to Hamburg.

FREE WOOL OPPOSED

Republicans Condemn New Schedule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Stubborn opposition to free raw wool was the major cause for the defeat of the woolen schedule as prepared by the majority was "distinctly against America and for Europe."

DISCUSSION OF CURRENCY BILL CONTINUED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—With the so-called insurgent democrats of the house banking committee routed by an eleven-hour coup in which Secretary Bryan completely endorsed President Wilson's plans for the administration currency bill, the caucus today continued consideration of the measure and took up the re-discount features with prospect of having the completed bill presented to the house early next week.

Thaw paused. "There are a lot of them," he admitted. "I don't know just who is in charge today."

Habeas Corpus Proceedings

District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, New York, his sheriff, Fred Hornbeck and Franklin Kennedy, representing the New York attorney general's office, said this forenoon that they could only wait the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings on Wednesday.

Thaw's lawyers considered early today that the extradition proceedings in either state, as a lawyer it would not be ethical for me to predict what I think the outcome will be.

PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

To be Delayed Pending Huerta's Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The Huerta administration in Mexico may reconsider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico and arrange a new basis for negotiation with the United States before next Tuesday. Strong intimations to this effect reached officials of the Huerta administration along with the information that the financial condition of the Huerta administration was such that a crisis was imminent. Should the Huerta government decide to enter into a new basis of discussion, withdrawing its contentions as expressed in the Huerta note replying to the proposals communicated by Mr. Lind President Wilson in all probability will not read his message to both houses of congress on Tuesday as he intended.

Reports from Mr. Lind declare that his relations with the Huerta official are more cordial than before and that they manifest a willingness to find some new ground for a settlement.

European diplomatic pressure, it is known here, is quietly at work in Mexico City in an effort to convince Huerta officials that the policy of the United States is being approved abroad.

A rumor that Caminetti would plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court was denied by the defendant.

Baseball News for Sailors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Uncle Sam's aerial "news service" whereby the officers and men on United States warships far out at sea are kept informed each night of the baseball scores and other items of interest, has proved a great success. Reports to the navy department from the battleship Illinois, which has just returned to home waters with a big party of midshipmen, say the reports were picked up readily by the vessel when she was 2175 nautical miles away from the navy's powerful station at Arlington, Va., and 2510 miles distant from the station at Key West.
